PREFACE.

The publication of this work has been delayed longer than anticipated, but this has not been to its disadvantage. More care and labor might have been expended in its preparation, but for the potent argument, it will not pay. The fault finding critic may ask himself how much more gratuitous attention he would have bestowed upon the work. To the practical genealogist no apology is necessary for its incompleteness, while to the general reader it may be remarked, that it is difficult to ascertain the whereabouts of the different branches of a family, and when found one half will probably treat letters of inquiry with silent indifference. Some who appear interested in the subject have but a vague idea of the scope of Genealogy, or the kind of information wanted; and a few manifest a silly weakness in regard to dates, as though the public estimate of character were based on age. There are doubtless errors in this work, and the writer earnestly desires that those who can, will forward any additions or corrections within their knowledge, and these will be entered in a copy of the book to be deposited in the library of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, Pa., for the benefit of future investigators. This Society is now making a specialty of collecting genealogical or family records, and as a member thereof, the writer requests copies of such records to be forwarded, either to himself, or to the Society in Philadelphia.

The coat of arms given on page 12, is printed from a cut made by the writer with a carpenter's chisel, and is but too correct a copy of the rough original.

EARLY HISTORY

O F

THE DUTTON FAMILY.

In several works, the early history of this family is treated of to a greater or less extent, but unfortunately they do not agree in all points, while some of them are so evidently deficient as to be unworthy of notice. The fullest account met with, is contained in a volume, entitled "Leycester's Historical Antiquities," published in 1673, by Peter Leycester, baronet,* in which the author treats of the history of Cheshire, England, and more particularly, of all the principal families and estates in that division of the county called Bucklow Hundred. As both he and his wife were descended from the Duttons, and the genealogy appears to have been carefully compiled from authentic histories, deeds, wills and ancient records of the family, it is probably nearly correct. It will be given as the text of the following pages.

* A copy of this work may be seen in the Mercantile Library, of Philadelphia, Pa. I am indebted to William John Potts, of Camden, N. J., for a transcript of the Dutton pedigree.

DUTTON.

I find this town of Dutton,* thrice named in Doomsday-book, as held then in the Conqueror's time by three persons. One Part Odard held immediately of the Earl of Chester, as it were in Capite: Another Part was held by William Fitz-Nigell, Baron of Halton, of the Earl, in like manner: Another Part did Osberne Son of Tezzon, Ancestor to the Boydells of Dodleston, hold also of the Earl of Chester.

Odard's Part seems to be the greatest Part, which one Ravene held before at the coming in of the Normans. The Baron of Halton's Part, and Osbern's Part, one Edward held before, and did then likewise hold Osbern's Part under the said Osbern. But both Osbern's Part, and the Baron of Halton's Part, at last came to the Posterity of Odard: For Osbern's Part was sold by his heir, Sir William Boydel, who released all his Seignory unto Thomas, son of Hugh Dutton of Dutton, in all the lands which the said Thomas held of him in Dutton, 15 Edw. 3, 1341.

As to the Baron of Halton's Part, John, Constable of Cheshire, Baron of Halton, gave to Adam de Dutton, (younger son of Hugh Dutton of Dutton, and Ancestor to Warburton of Arley,) those four Oxfangs of Land in Dutton, which Walter Heron held: This was about the end of the Reign of Henry the Second: And Sir Geffrey de Warburton releaseth all his Right unto Thomas, son of Hugh de Dutton aforesaid, in all those Lands in Dutton which the said Thomas held by Lease, from the said Sir Geffrey: Dated at Dutton, 28 Edw. 3, 1354. So that Thomas de Dutton was now invested in the whole Town of Dutton entirely.

This Township, in the ancient record of Doomsday-book, is written Duntune: Dun, in the old Saxon language, signifies A Hill, for which we now use the word Down: So that Duntune signifies as much as A Town upon a Hill or Down; now contracted to Dutton.

From this Town did the ancient Family of the Duttons assume their Sir-name: For Odard being seated here in the Conqueror's time, his Posterity were sir-named de Dutton, from the place of their residence; where they have continued ever since to this present 1666, about 600 years: A family of great worth and antiquity, and as it were almost a constant succession of Knights; but now, alas! ready to change its name, being devolved by a daughter and heir unto the Lord Gerard of Gerards-Bromley in Staffordshire.

* The Township of Dutton lies about five miles East of Frodsham, on the river Weaver, in Cheshire.

The Mannor-house of Dutton is well seated, and hath great store of meadowing by the River side belonging to the Demain, which is accounted the largest and best Demain within our County, comprehending 1400 Statute Acres by Survey. This House standeth upon a pleasant Prospect to the opposite Hills of the Forest; and hath in it an ancient Chappel, built first by Sir Thomas Dutton towards the end of Henry the Third's Reign; unto whom Roger de Lincoln then Prior of Norton, and the Convent there, did grant liberam Cantariam in Capellis suis de Dutton & Weston infra Limites Parochiarum nostrarum de Budworth & de Runcorne; id est, Free liberty of Reading Divine Service, or Singing the same; so as the Mother-Churches receive no detriment either in their greater or lesser Tythes. That of Weston is long since vanished; but this Chappel at Dutton yet remains, and is now a Domestick Chappel within the Mannor-House of Dutton, unto which Sir Piers Dutton, of Hatton, after he was adjudged next Heir Male to the Lands of Dutton by the Award of Henry the Eighth, did annex his new Buildings at Dutton, Anno Domini 1539, as appears by the Inscription round about the Hall of Dutton yet extant, adjoining those unto the Chappel, and so making it as one continued Building; before which time the old House stood a little distance from the Chappel aforesaid.

In the Demain of Dutton is also another Chappel of Ease, called Poosey-Chappel, within the Parish of Runcorne; but is now ruinate and in decay. It is seated between the River and the Park-Pool within the Demain of Dutton, but not in the Township of Dutton; for all the town of Dutton is within Budworth Parish. It was called Pooseye from its situation, [Ey] in our old English-Saxon Tongue signifies a River or Brook; and because it stood close by the River and the Pool also, it was called Poos-ey Chappel, as it were, The Chappel by the River and the Pool. In our old Norman writing, and French way, I find it in Old Deeds written Pul-sey; but in our common Language anciently, as the Country People at this day, did call a Pool a Poo; and thence it was denominated Poo's-ey-Chappel. It was built in the Reign of Henry the Third; and the Prior and Convent of Norton, granted to Hugh, Son of Hugh de Dutton, that they would find a Chaplain to officiate at Poos-ey forever; and a lamp burning at the time of Divine Service, about 1236, 20 Hen. 3, which Chappel was constantly frequented by the neighborhood, until Robert, Lord Kilmorey, and Dame Elinour his wife, came to live at Dutton, even in our days; who beautified the Domestick Chappel at Dutton with handsome Pews, and kept a Chaplain in his house constantly, whereunto all the Neighborhood resorted every Sunday: Then began Poos-ey Chappel to be neglected, and is now totally in decay, some part of the Structure yet remaining, 1666.

Now followeth the Pedegree of the Duttons of Dutton, faithfully collected from the Evidences of that Family, and other good Records and Deeds:

I. Odard, or Udard, sometimes also written Hodard and Hudard, came into England with William the Conqueror, and seated himself at Dutton; a good part whereof Hugh Lupus, Earl of Chester, gave unto him as before you have heard out of Doomsday-book. The ancient Roll of the Barons of Halton saith that with Hugh, Earl of Chester, came one Nigell, a nobleman; and with Nigell came five brethren, to wit: Hudard, Edard, Wolmere, Horswyne, and Wlofaith, a Priest, to whom Nigell gave the Church of Runcorne; and unto Hudard, the same Nigell gave Weston and Great Aston, (now divided into two Townships, Aston Grange and Aston juxta Sutton,) pro uno Feodo Militis; and from this Hudard came all the Duttons. And in the Record of Doomsday, Odard held Aston under William Fitz-Nigell, Baron of Halton; and also Odard and Brictric held Weston under the said William, Anno Domini 1086. Whether those five Brethren aforementioned, were Brethren to Nigell, is a doubt; for then methinks he should have said Quinque Fratres sui: whereas he says onely, cum isto Nigello Venerunt quinque Fratres, and so names them.*

Quarterly, Argent & Gules, in the second and third Quarters a Fret Or.

*The Warburtons claim consanguinity with the ancient blood-royal of England, being descended from Rollo, the first Duke of Normandy, through William, Earl of Eu, who married a niece of William the Conqueror.

Richard, Duke of Normandy, (grand-son of Rollo) sur-named SANS-PEUR, had issue (besides his son Richard who succeeded him, his daughter Emina, Queen of England, and other children) two younger sons, Godfrey and William. To Godfrey, his father gave the earldoms of Eu and Brion. On his decease the latter earldom became the heritage of his posterity, branching out into the now extinct houses of the Earls of Clare and Pembroke, while William, the younger brother, succeeded him in the earldom of Eu. He had (besides others) his successor, Robert, father of William, who married a sister of Hugh Lupus, Earl of Avranches, (afterwards Earl of Chester) named Jeanne, and niece of William the Conqueror.

There was issue of this marriage (besides William's successor in the earldom of Eu and another child) six sons, named Nigel, Geffry, Odard or Huddard, Edard, Horswin and Wlofaith.

These six brothers accompanied their uncle, Hugh Lupus, into England, in the train of William the Conqueror, their great-uncle; and on the establishment of the Norman power had various estates and honors conferred upon them. Nigel was created Baron of Halton and constable of Cheshire; Geffry was Lord of Stopfort; Odard, Lord of Dutton; Edard, Lord of Haselwell; Horswin, Lord of Shrigley; and Wlofaith, Lord of Halton. Odard, the third son, was the ancestor

This Hudard's, or Odard's Sword, is at this day, 1665, in the Custody of the Lady Elinour Vicountess Kilmorey, sole Daughter and Heir of Thomas Dutton, late of Dutton, Esquire, deceased; which Sword hath for many ages past been preserved, and passed from Heir to Heir as an Heir-loom, by the name of Hudard's Sword; and so at this day it is by Tradition received and called.

II. Hugh, Son of Hodard, had those Lands which he held in Capite, or immediately of the Earl of Chester, confirmed unto him by Randle the Secound, sir-named de Gernoniis, Earl of Chester, about the latter end of Henry the First. These Lands, I conceive, were those which he held in Dutton.

III. Hugh de Dutton, Son of Hugh, Son of Hodard, had the Lands which his father Hugh held of the Baron of Halton, confirmed unto him by William, son of Nigell, Constable to Randle the Second, and by William his son, on that day when the said William the Father, and William the son, did visit Hugh, the son of Hodard on his Death-bed at Kekwick; at which time Hugh, the son of Hodard, gave unto William the Father his Coat of Mail and his Charging-Horse; and Hugh, the son of that Hugh, gave unto William the son, a Palfrey and a Sparrow-hawk. This was about the end of the Reign of King Henry the First. The Lands here confirmed, I conceive to be Weston and Kekwick, and perhaps some others.

This Hugh de Dutton had issue, Hugh Dutton, son and Heir; Adam de Dutton,† another son, from whom the Warburtons of Arley of the Duttons, now extinct in the male line; the Barons of Chedill, also extinct, and the Warburtons.—BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, p. 1508.

Odard, son of Yvron, viscount of Constantine, (whose name is written in most records of later date, Hodard or Hudard) was the immediate ancestor of the ancient and numerous family of Dutton of Dutton.—LYSONS' MAGNA BRITANNIA, VOL. II.

Leycester mentions the fact that William, Earl of Eu, married a sister to Hugh Lupus, and gives the paternal ancestry of the latter, but says nothing of their relationship to either William the Conqueror, or the six brothers above named. He says elsewhere that Sir George Warburton denied him the perusal of the Warburton papers, which may account for the lack of information on this point.

†Adam de Dutton, by his marriage with Agnes Fitzalured, (dau. and heir of Roger Fitzalured,) became proprietor of the manor of Warburton, as mesne Lord, in the time of Henry II. One half he gave to the canons of Warburton, for the soul of his son John, (who was buried there,) among other reasons. The other half he gave to the Knights Hospitallers, who re-granted the same in 1187. Adam had issue: I. Geoffry, his eldest son and successor; II. John, buried at Warburton; III. Agatha. The elder son, Sir Geoffry Dutton, resided principally at Sutton. He obtained Aston, near Budworth, in which Arley lies. The name of the lady he married does not appear, but Lysons suggests that Alice, the dau. of John Lacy, constable of Chester, Baron of Halton, may have been his wife; which said Alice, many heralds have given as a wife to Adam, his father. This conjecture receives a strong confirmation from a family Deed, by which John Lacy gives the manor of Clifton to Geoffry Dutton, with the expression, SCILICET DE UXORE DESPONSATA. Adam de Dutton, as well as his cousin, the Baron of Halton, had emulated each other in donations to religious establishments, and in this generation the representatives of both families, John de Lacy and Geof.

are descended; Geoffrey de Dutton,† another son, from whom the Duttons of Chedill in this county were propagated, who assumed the sir-name of Chedill, and continued to the Reign of Edward the Third, till Sir Roger de Chedill, (the last of that family,) dying 1 Edw. 3, 1327, left his Inheritance to be shared by his two daughters and heirs, Clemence and Agnes; and out of that family de Chedill, branched Hamon Dutton under Edward the First, younger son to Sir Geoffrey Dutton of Chedill, to whom his father gave Ashley, (13, Ed. 1, 1285,) which he purchased for him. The posterity of this Hamon assumed the sir-name of Ashley from the place of their residence, as was the manner of those ages; which Family of the Ashley's of Ashley continued to the end of Henry the Eighth; about which time Thomasin, daughter and heir of George Ashley of Ashley, Esquire, brought that Inheritance to Richard Brereton of Lea-Hall, not far from Middlewich, by marriage, who was a younger son of Sir William Brereton of Brereton in this county; in which name of Brereton of Ashley it ry Dutton, followed up the zeal of their fathers and raised the banner of the Cross. Sir Geoffrey before his departure, consigned by deed, a portion of his estates to his friend Herbert de Orseby. The crest of Warburton is born to commemorate an exploit performed by this Geoffrey. In the Harleian MSS. 139, p. 68, is a transcript from an ancient family record, taken by Lawrence Bostoke, in 1572, in which this exploit is thus alluded to: THIS GALFRID LIVED 1214; HE WAS SERVYNGE HIS PRYNCE AND VANQUYSHED A SARRAZIN IN COMBATE, THEN BEGYNNYNGE TO SEALE WITH THE SARRAZIN'S HEAD.

Sir Geoffrey had a son and heir, Sir Geoffrey Dutton, Knt., (Generally styled, D'NUS GALFRIDUS FILIUS GALFRIDI DE DUTTON,) to whom the premonstratensian canons re-granted the other half of Warburton, in 1271. He also obtained the mediety of Lymme from the Boydells, by grant. To one of his Deeds there is this seal, viz: a man's arm in a manche or loose sleeve, with a fleur-de-lis in his hand; written about, SIGILLUM GALFRIDI DE DUTTON, in a roundlet, not in an escocheon. His second wife was Isabella. Sir Geoffrey had issue I. Peter, his heir; II. Thomas, to whom he granted Thelwall, in 1258-59; and, III. Margaret, wife first of Robert de Denbigh, and secondly, of Nicholas de Leycester.—BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY, p. 1508.

This Geoffrey Dutton, son of Adam, lived at this Town of Budworth: for in the Deed of the purchase of Claterwigge, a Hamlet in Little Legh, by Sir Thomas Dutton, of Dutton, one of the witnesses subscribed was,—SIR GEFREY, OF BUDWORTH, SON OF ADAM DE DUTTON. And I have seen him styled Geoffrey de Budworth, in many other Deeds; and so was Geoffrey, his son, often so styled, who lived there also. But Peter Dutton, son of the later Geoffrey, removing his habitation unto Warburton, towards the end of Edward the First, his son Peter was styled de Warburton, according to the manner of those Ages, under Edward the Second; from which time downwards, his posterity hath wholly retained the Sir-name of Warburton, even to this day. But his succeeding Heirs, afterwards, disliking the seat at Warburton, either for the inundation of the water, or for some other cause, removed their seat to Arley, in Aston, near to this Budworth, about the beginning of Henry the Seventh's Reign; which house of Arley was built by Peter Warburton, Esquire, who died Anno Domini 1495; where they have ever since continued, to this day, as their Chief Mansion House.—LEYCESTER'S HIST. ANTIQ., p. 226.

† Burke says that Geoffrey Dutton, brother of Adam, married a daughter of Hamon Massy. Leycester says that Hamon Massy the Third, had issue by Agatha, his wife, (amongst others) a daughter Agnes, with whom her Father gave half of Bollinton in Free-Marriage to Geoffrey Dutton, of Chedill, son of Geoffrey Dutton.

continued but four descents, and was divided among the three sisters of Thomas Brereton, (the last Brereton of Ashley,) and their heirs, Anno Domini 1661. See more hereof above in Ashley.

IV. Hugh Dutton of Dutton, son of Hugh, married ——— daughter of Hamon Massy, Baron of Dunham-Massy, regnante Henrico Secundo; with whom her father gave in free marriage, Lands in Suttersby, in Lindsey in Lincolnshire; and had issue,† Hugh Dutton, eldest son, Thomas Dutton, John Dutton, Adam Dutton. He purchased Little Moldesworth for fifty Marks, from Robert, son of Mathew de Moldesworth, about 1250. Also Alice, wife of William Boydell of Dodleston.

†V. I do conceive here was another Hugh Dutton, son and heir of this Hugh, who married Muriel, daughter of Thomas le Dispenser, and he had issue, Hugh, Thomas, John and Adam, as there followeth. And if so, some of these Acts may belong to that Hugh, which are ascribed to this Hugh.

This Hugh Dutton bought Preston nigh Dutton, of Henry de Nuers and Julian his wife, reddendo octo Solidos annuatim, ad Festum Sancti Martini; which Randle Blundevill, Earl of Chester, confirmed, about the Reign of King John. He purchased also the Town of Little Legh, in Fee-Farm, from Simon, son of Osberne, rendring the yearly rent of two Marks of silver at the feast of St. Martin; which rent is yet paid by his heirs to the Earl of Derby, as of his Mannor of Harden, Anno Domini 1666. And Roger Lacy, Constable of Cheshire, and Baron of Halton, acquitted this Hugh Dutton de Judice de Legha, that is, of finding a Judger to serve at Halton for Little Legh yearly, about the Reign of Richard the First, or beginning of King John's Reign.

He purchased also, the Moiety of Barnton, from William, son of Henry, son of Serlo, which Robert de Mesnilwarin held.

He had also the Magistracy, or rule and authority, over all the Letchers and Whores of all Cheshire, granted unto him and his heirs, by John, Constable of Cheshire, and Baron of Halton, as freely as the said John held the same of the Earl of Chester; saving the Right of the said John to him and his heirs: Which are the very words of the Deed, onely rendred by me in English. So that he holds it, as it were, under the Baron of Halton, who reserves his own Right by a Special Reservation.

This privilege over such loose persons, was granted first unto Roger Lacy, Constable of Cheshire, under Richard the First, by Randle, sir-named Blundevill, Earl of Chester, in memory of his good service done to the Earl in raising the Siege of the Welsh-men, who had beset the Earl in his Castle of Rothelent in Flintshire; for the Constable having got a promiscuous rabble of such like persons together, and marching towards the said Castle, the Welsh, (supposing a great army to be coming,) raised their Siege and fled: So saith the ancient Roll of the Barons of Halton. This Roll saith, that rabble consisted of Players, Fiddlers and Shoc-makers. The Deed here toucheth Letchers and Whores. The privilege and custom used at this day by the Heirs of Dutton, is over the Minstrelsie and common Fidlers ; none being suffered to play in this County, without the Licence of the Lord of Dutton, who keeps a Court at Chester yearly, on Mid-somer-day, for the same, where all the licenced Minstrels of Cheshire do appear, and renew their licences ; So that the custom seems to have been altered to the Fidlers, as necessary attendants on revellers in Bawdy-houses and Taverns. And it is to be observed, that those Minstrels which are licenced by the heirs of Dutton of Dutton, within the County Palatine of Chester, or the County of the City of Chester, according to their ancient custom, are exempted out of the Statute of Rogues, 39 Eliz., cap. 4.

VI. Hugh Dutton, of Dutton, Son and Heir of Hugh, lived 1234, 18 Hen. 3. He purchased from Richard de Aston, son of Gilbert de Aston, Six Bovates of Land in Aston juxta Dutton, in the beginning of the Reign of Henry the Third ; which land belongs to Dutton-Demain at this day, 1666. He also built Poosey Chappel about 20 Hen. 3, 1236, of which I have spoken before ; which undoubtedly stood upon part of that land bought from Aston, for that Chappel is in Runcorne Parish.

This Hugh gave to John, his brother, the third part of all the Town of Bolinton in Maxfield Hundred, which Thomas le Dispenser gave in Free-marriage Hugoni Patri meo cum Muriela Matre mea ; which Deed was made about the Year of Christ, 1234.

This Hugh de Dutton died without issue, and Thomas, his brother, succeeded Heir.

VII. Sir Thomas Dutton, of Dutton, Brother and Heir to Hugh, lived Anno Domini 1249, 33, Hen. 3, and 1268, 53, Hen. 3. He purchased Clatterwigge, a Hamlet in Little Legh juxta Barterton, from Hugh de Clatterwigge, about 1244, 29, Hen. 3. He built the Chappel at the Manor-house of Dutton, towards the end of Henry the Third's Reign.

He married Philippa, Daughter and Heir of Vivian de Sandon, or Standon, by whom he had lands in Staffordshire ; and had issue, Hugh Dutton, Son and Heir ; Thomas, another son, to whom his father gave Great Rownall and Little Rownall, in Staffordshire, by the consent of Philippa, his wife. But I conceive this younger son Thomas died without issue, because I find Philippa in her Widowhood granting these two Mannors of Rownall to Sir Robert Dutton, her other son, and to Agnes, his wife, daughter of William de Mere, in Staffordshire : Margaret, a daughter, married William Venables, son and heir of Roger Venables, of Kinderton, 38 Hen. 3, 1253. And Katharine married John, son of Vrian de Sancto Petro. So I find it in an old Pedegree.

This Sir Thomas was Sheriff of Cheshire 1268, 53 Hen. 3. He died in the beginning of the Reign of Edward the First.

Philippa was living a widow 1290 and 1294.

VIII. Sir Hugh Dutton, of Dutton Knight, Son and Heir of Sir Thomas, bound himself to the Abbot of Vale-Royal, to make a Foot-Bridge at Acton, and to find a Boat and Ferry-man at Acton Ford, about 1286. The same is now made a County Bridge.

He also was bound to William Gerard his Squire in una Roba Armigerorum annuatim ad totam vitam suam ad Festum Natalis Domini, 13 Edw. I. 1285.

He purchased Barterton, and married Joan, daughter of Sir Vrian de Sancto Petro, vulgo Sampier; I have no authority for this but an old Pedegree; and had Issue Hugh Dutton, son and heir; and William Dutton, who married Maud, daughter and co-heir to Sir Richard Stockport, of Stockport, 1305; which William, with others, was Indicted 35 Edw. I, for taking away the said Maud by force from Dunham-Massy, being then in the custody of Hamon Massy; whom they took out of her chamber into the court, stripping her of all her clothes, save her smock, saith the Record: Robert Dutton, Parson of Eccleston, 1320. Also Margaret, a daughter. This Sir Hugh died 22 Edw. I, 1294. Joan his Lady survived; she was living 1298.

IX. Sir Hugh Dutton, of Dutton Knight, son and heir of Sir Hugh, born the eighth day of December, 5 Edw. I, 1276, at Dutton; and Baptized at Great Budworth the day following. He sued the Prior of Norton, before Adam Burum and Nicolas Gruchundele, Commissaries of the Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, at the Visitation of the Arch-Deanery of Chester, Anno Domini 1315, for not finding a Chaplain and Lamp at Poosey Chappel, according to the original Grant, which he there produced; And John Olton, then Prior, confessed the same, and was ordered to find them. This Priory was of the Order of St. Augustine.

He married Joan, daughter of Sir Robert Holland, of Holland in Lancashire, and had Issue Thomas Dutton, son and heir; William, Parson of Thornton, 22 Edw. 3; Geoffrey Dutton, another son; Robert Dutton, another son. This Sir Hugh was made Steward of Halton, 24 Decembris, 20 Edw. 2, and died 1 Edw. 3, 1326, at the age of fifty years.*

Joan, his widow, afterwards married Edmund Talbot, of Bashall; and after, to Sir John Ratcliff, of Urdeshall, in Lancashire, living 11 Edw. 3, & 20 Edw. 3.

X. Sir Thomas Dutton, of Dutton, Knight, Son and Heir of Sir Hugh and Joan, was fifteen years old on Whitsunday, 1329. 3 Edw. 3. He purchased those lands in Dutton, which formerly belonged to Halton-Fee; and also those lands in Dutton, which formerly

* Hancock, a younger son of Sir Hugh Dutton, who died in 1326, settled in Denbighshire. Edward Dutton, Alderman of Chester in 1613, proved his descent from the said Hancock.

Richard, his son, was also alderman of Chester, and had a son of his own name, but we have not been able to trace their posterity to the present time.—LYSONS' MAGNA BRITANNIA, VOL. II.

belonged to Boydell of Dodleston; and so made the Township of Dutton entirely his own; as I have more particularly shewed before.

This Thomas, was made Seneschal, Governor, and Receiver of the Castle and Honour of Halton, in Cheshire, by William Clinton, Earl of Huntington; and also of all his Lands and Mannors in Cheshire and Lancashire, quamdiu bene se gesserit which the Earl farmed unto him for 440 marks yearly; Dated at Maxstock, 19 Edw. 3.

It seems he was indicted, for that he and others came with armed power, (when King Edward the Third, was out of England,) within the verge of the lodging of Lionell the King's son, Protector of England, and assaulted the Mannor of Geaumes, nigh Reading in Wiltshire, and there slew Michael Poynings, the uncle, and Thomas le Clerke of Shipton, and others, and committed a rape on Margery the wife of one Nicolas de la Beche, for which the King pardoned him; and he found Sir Bernard Brocas, Sir Hugh Berewyk, Philip Durdanyt, and John Haydoke, his sureties in the Chancery for his good abearing, 26 Edw. 3, 1352.

He was by several Commissions, employed for the apprehending of certain Malefactors, Robbers and Disturbers of the Peace in this County. One is directed unto him by the name of Thomas Dutton, Equitator in Foresta de Mara, and to Richard Done, Forester of the same Forest, 14 Edw. 3. Anno Domini 1379, 3 Rich. 2. William Eltonhed, Prior of the Hermit-Fryars of the Order of St. Augustine at Warrington in Lancashire, and the Convent there, grant to Sir Thomas Dutton, Knight, a perpetual Chantry; to wit, 'That a sufficient Fryar of the Convent of Warrington, shall be especially elected to pray for the salvation of Sir Thomas, his children, and of Philippa his wife, and her parents; and for the soul of Dame Ellen, late wife of the said Sir Thomas, their children and parents when they shall die, at the Great Altar of their Church yearly for ever; and that their names be written down in their Martyrology: Whereunto the Prior and Convent were bound under a penalty of 3s. 4d., to be levied by the Provincial Prior upon omission of such Form of Service; and if for a week or a fortnight it were omitted, then must they double the time omitted in manner aforesaid: if neglected for six Months, then upon pain of suspension: if for a year, then upon excommunication, until the time omitted be made up: Whereunto are witnesses, Thomas, Abbot of St. Werburge of Chester, Stephen, Abbot of Vale-Royal, Richard, Prior of Norton, and Roger, Prior of Berkenhed.

This was confirmed by Henry de Towesdale, Provincial Prior of the Hermit-Fryars of the Order of St. Augustine in England, with a special Injunction, That the said persons be yearly twice commemorated before the whole Convent; once at the first entrance of the Prior of Warrington into the Convocation-house yearly; the other time, on the election-day of a Fellow-Prior for a Provincial Convocation. Dated at Warrington on Sunday next after the Feast of St. Martin, Anno Supradicto.

This Sir Thomas sealed usually with his Coat of Arms and Crest, to wit, Quarterly, a Fret in the second and third; over which, upon the Dexter-Angle of the Escoccheon, a Helmet, and thereon a Plume of Feathers.

Anno Domini 1344, Robert Monning of Tatenhale, grants to Thomas de Dutton and his heirs, all the Magistracy of the Minstrels, cum omnibus pertinentiis, prout in Charta Originali plenius continetur. I conceive he was but a Feoffee.

This Thomas was Sheriff of Cheshire, 30 & 33 Edw. 3, and was a Knight, 35 Edw. 3. He married two Wives: The first was Ellen, one of the Daughters and Heirs of Sir Peter Thornton of Thornton, the eldest Daughter, by whom he had Issue Sir Peter Dutton, who died without Issue 35 Edw. 3. Thomas Dutton, another Son, died also without Issue: Lawrence Dutton succeeded Heir to his Father: Edmund Dutton, another Son: Henry Dutton, fifth Son: and William Dutton, another Son.

His second wife was Philippa the widow of Sir Peter Thornton; she was (as I conceive) a later wife to Sir Peter Thornton, not mother of the Co-heirs.

This Sir Thomas Dutton died 4. Rich. 2. 1381. aged Sixty-six years: Philippa his widow died 13 Rich. 2. 1389.

Edmund Dutton, younger Son of Sir Thomas, married Joan Daughter and Heir of Henry Minshull de Church-Minshull, by whom he had the Mannors of Church-Minshull and Aston-Mondram; and had Issue Sir Peter Dutton, who became Heir to his Uncle Sir Lawrence Dutton of Dutton: Hugh Dutton, second Son of whom the Duttons of Hatton nigh Warton in Cheshire, whose Posterity afterwards, in process of time, became Heirs of Dutton-Lands under Henry the Eighth: Lawrence Dutton another Son; and Thomas Dutton, another Son: Agnes de Dutton, a Daughter, married William Leycester of Nether-Tabley, 1398. 22 Rich. 2; and Ellen, another Daughter.

This Edmund died before his Brother Sir Lawrence; and Joan his widow afterwards married William de Hooton, and had Issue by him. Joan died 11 Rich. 2. 1387, at which time Peter Dutton, her Son and Heir was twenty Years old.

XI. Sir Lawrence Dutton of Dutton Knight, son and Heir to Sir Thomas, had two wives, Alice and Margaret; but who was father to either of them, I find not. He had no issue by either, leaving his Inheritance to descend to Peter Dutton, eldest son of Edmund Dutton his younger Brother.

Sir Lawrence was a Knight 44 Edw. 3, and Sheriff of Cheshire 44, 45, 46 Edw. 3, and also 1. Rich. 2.

He had four parts of the seven of Thornton's Estate. One part he had as Son and Heir to Ellen, eldest Daughter and co-heir of Sir Peter de Thornton: He purchased the part of Elizabeth, late wife of Roger Venables, of Golborne, (Daughter and Heir of Margaret, wife of William de Golborne, which Margaret was another of the Daughters and Heirs of Sir Peter de Thornton,) 12 Rich. 2. Another part he purchased from Matthew de Weverham, Son and Heir of Hugh de Weverham, and Emme his wife, another of the Daughters and Heirs of Sir Peter de Thornton, 14 Rich. 2 1391. The part of Katharine, who was out-lawed for Felony, Thomas Dutton, his father, had formerly bought of the Prince. Mary, another Daughter and co-heir, had the Mannor of Helsby; she died without Issue. Maud, another Daughter and co-heir, married Henry Beeston, of Beeston. Elizabeth, another Daughter and co-heir, married Hamon Fitton, of Bollin, and had Issue Joan, Daughter and Heir, mother of William Venables, of Bollin.

Sir Lawrence had Licence from the Earl of Chester, to carry away the Chappel of Kingsley, formerly belonging to Sir Peter de Thornton, being within the boundary of the Forest; 45 Edw. 3.

He sealed constantly with his Escoccheon of arms, Quarterly, a Fret in the second and third Quarters; inscribed about the seal,—SIGIL. LAURENTII DE DUTTON MILITIS. Which very seal was extant 1665, in possession of the Lady Kilmorey.

He made his will at Dutton, on Sunday, being the day after the conversion of St. Paul, or 26 Januarii, Anno Domini 1392. 16, Rich. 2, wherein he bequeaths his body to be buried at Norton, and gives his black horse before his body to the Convent of Norton for a Heriot; also sixteen torches, and five tapers, about his body on the burial-day, with sixteen poor men in Gowns to carry the lights; also ten Marks to the poor, and thirty pound to sufficient Chaplains to celebrate for his soul the next year, two in the Parish Church of Budworth, and four others in the Chappel of Dutton:—Also to Agnes and Ellen, daughters of Edmund Dutton, forty pounds for their marriages;—and makes Margaret his wife, and his Cosin Hugh Dutton, his Executors, and the Abbot of Chester Overseer of his Will.

This will was proved the tenth day of February following before William Neubagh then Archdeacon of Chester.

So that Sir Lawrence died 1392. 16 Rich. 2, aged fifty-three years. Margaret his widow married afterwards Sir William Brereton of Brereton, 21 Rich. 2.

XII. Sir Peter Dutton of Dutton Knight, Son and Heir of Edmund Dutton, which Edmund was younger brother and next Heir to Sir Lawrence Dutton of Dutton. The King granted him a pardon for taking part with Henry Percy the Son, sir-named Hotspur; dated at Cirencester, 3 Novembris, 5 Hen. 4, 1403. He was made Lieutenant or Deputy in the office of the Seneschalcy of the County of Chester, by Elizabeth, Countess of Salisbury, while they both should live, and to be of Council with her; for which service she gave him two marks Annual Rent, which he ought to pay her for his Lands of Little Legh, held of her Castle of Harden, during the term aforesaid; 1408, 10 Hen. 4.

Great Contention fell between this Sir Peter Dutton, and Sir William Athurton of Athurton in Lancashire; insomuch that they made Inroads and Invasions one upon the other; And the said Sir Piers Dutton, and his Adherents; to wit, Sir Rafe Bostock of Bostock, Richard Warburton of Budworth, Thomas Warburton of Halton, John Done of Utkinton Junior, John Manley of Manley, Hugh Dutton of Hatton the elder, William Leycester of Nether-Tabley, Sir Peter Legh of Clifton, (ancestor to Legh of Lyme), and John Carington of Carington, were all sued by Sir William Athurton, for taking away forty of his Oxen and forty Cows, out of his Closes at Athurton, and for beating of his Servants. XIV. Sir Thomas Dutton of Dutton Knight, Son and Heir of John and Margaret, married Anne Daughter of James Lord Audley, and had Issue Peter eldest Son, slain with his father at the Battel of Blore-Heath, as Tradition hath it: John Dutton, second Son, who succeeded Heir to his Father: Anne married Sir Thomas Molineaux of Sefton in Lancashire: Isabel married Sir Christopher Sotheworth of Sotheworth in Lancashire: Elizabeth married Raufe Bostock of Bostock in Davenham Parish in Cheshire, Esq. by whom he had Issue Anne Daughter and Heir, married to Sir John Savage of Clifton in Cheshire, juxta Halton; which Elizabeth, after the death of Raufe Bostock, married Thomas Scriven of Frodsley in Shropshire, and she died Anno Domini 1516, 5 die Februarii, 8 Hen. 8, Margaret, another Daughter of Sir Thomas Dutton, married Thomas Aston of Aston juxta Sutton, Esquire, 7 Edw. 4. 1467. Afterwards she married Raufe Vernon of Haslington in Cheshire, Esquire; and Elinour, another Daughter, married Richard Cholmondley of Cholmondley in Broxton Hundred, Esq.

This Sir Thomas was slain at the Battel of Blore-Heath in Staffordshire, September 23, 38 Hen. 6, 1459, Stow in his Annals; and in the thirty-eighth year of his age. Anne, his widow, afterwards married Hugh Done of Olton in Cheshire; and she died 19 Hen. 7, 1503.

XV. John Dutton, of Dutton, Esquire, Son and Heir of Sir Thomas and Anne, was made Steward to the Prior of Norton for his Life, of all the Lands and Tenements belonging to that Priory, Robert Leftwich being then Abbot of Norton; and for which the said John Dutton had three Pound yearly for his Fee: Dated at Norton, in September, 38 Hen. 6. 1459.

XVI. Roger Dutton of Dutton Esquire (younger Brother to Sir Thomas, and Heir to his Nephew John Dutton) married Joan Daughter of Sir Richard Aston of Aston juxta Sutton, and had Issue Lawrence Dutton Son and Heir.

This Roger died 14 Hen. 7. 1499. Joan his widow afterwards married Sir Richard Strangewaies.

XVII. Lawrence Dutton of Dutton Esquire, 14. Hen. 7, Son and Heir of Roger and Joan, married Joan Daughter of Robert Duckenfield of Duckenfield in Cheshire Esq.; but died without any Lawful Issue, Anno Domini 1526, aged fifty Years.

He had a Bastard-Son called John Dutton, to whom he gave the Messuage in Preston nigh Daresbery, called the New Mannor, for his Life; 1526. He had also two Bastard-Daughters, Isabel and Joan.

Upon the failing of Issue Male of this Line of Dutton, there fell great Controversie and suits of Law concerning this fair Inheritance of Dutton, between Sir Piers Dutton of Hatton in Broxton Hundred, as next Heir Male, on the one part; and the Daughters and Co-heirs of Sir Thomas Dutton of Dutton, and their Heirs, on the other part. At last it was composed and ended by the Award of King Henry the Eighth, Dated the sixteenth day of May, 26 Hen. 8. 1534, and Confirmed by Act of Parliament 27 Hen. 8, after seven Years Suit, and above.

The Lands allotted to the Co-heirs were the Lordships of Church-Minshull, Aston in Mondrum, and Kekwick; and all the lands which the Ancestors of Dutton held in Kingsley, Norley, Chorleton, Codynton, Pulton-Lancelyn, Bradley, Budworth in le Frith, Milneton, Barnton, Over-Whitley, Aston nigh Moldesworth, Hellesby, Frodsham, and in the City of Chester.

The Lands allotted to Sir Piers Dutton of Hatton, and now adjudged the next Heir Male, were, the Mannor of Dutton, the Advowry of the Minstrels in Cheshire, the Advowson of Poosey Chapel, the Lordships of Weston, Preston, Barterton, Little Legh, Nesse in Wirrall, Little Moldesworth, Acton, and Harpesford; and all the Lands which the Ancestors of Dutton held in Weston, Clifton, Preston, Barterton, Legh, Nesse, Little Moldesworth, Acton, Harpesford, Stony Dunham, Michbarrow, Stoke, Picton, Arrowe, North-wich, Halton, Thelwall, Oneston, Middle-wich, Stanthorne, and Over-Runcorne.

And now before we proceed to the next Lord of Dutton, we must look back to the first Ancestor of this Sir Piers Dutton of Hatton, which branched out of the family of Dutton of Dutton, and bring that line to this Sir Piers Dutton, and then proceed.

So then we find Hugh Dutton, the first Dutton of Hatton, in Right of Petronill* his wife, Daughter and Heir of Peter de Hatton juxta Warton, branching out under Richard the Second. This Hugh was a younger son of Edmund Dutton, which Edmund was a younger son of Sir Thomas Dutton of Dutton. [X.]

* Burke says this Hugh Dutton married Petronella, daughter of Ralph Vernon of Hatton in Cheshire, Esq.

1. This Hugh had Issue John Dutton, Son and Heir; Lawrence Dutton, another Son; Randle, Rector of Christleton nigh Chester; also Hugh, another Son. Elizabeth, a Daughter, married Richard Manley of Manley. Hugh Dutton of Hatton was Sheriff of Cheshire 10 Hen. 5. 1422, and had a second wife, namely, Emme the widow of Hugh Venables of Golborne, and Daughter of Nicholas Warren of Pointon, 16 Hen. 6.—John Booth of Twamlow's Book of his own Collections.

*Richard Dutton, 2nd son of John Dutton of Hatton, had issue Ralph Dutton, who had two sons William and Richard. This Richard, who was an alderman and J. P. of the city of Chester, was removed by parliament for having been in arms against the commonwealth.

William Dutton, eldest son and heir of Richard Dutton, lived at Chester and had issue by his wife Agnes, daughter of John Conway of Flintshire, several children, whereof the 2nd son Thomas purchased the Manor of Sherborne in Gloucestershire. This Thomas was the father of William Dutton, Esq., who was sheriff of Gloucestershire. John Dutton, Esq., of Sherborne, son of William, was one of the Knights for that county to sit in parliament, 1640, but being frightened thence by the tumults that came up to the parliament doors, as other royalists were, he conveyed himself privately to Oxford and sate there. He was a learned and prudent man, and as one of the richest, so one of the meekest men in England. He was active in making the defence and drawing up the articles of Oxon when the garrison was to be surrendered to the parliament; for which and his steady loyalty he was forced to pay a round sum in Goldsmith's Hall, London. He left two daughters, Elizabeth and Lucy, but no son, and his estate passed to a nephew. Lucy married Thomas Pope, Earl of Downe, and their only daughter Elizabeth married Sir Francis Henry Lee of Ditchley.

Sir Ralph Dutton, brother of John of Sherborne, was gentleman extraordinary to King Charles I, and high sheriff of Gloucestershire in 1630. His estate was sequestered during the great rebellion and he was obliged to fly the country. He sailed for France but was driven back by storms and died on Burnt Island in 1646. He left several sons, the eldest of which, William, succeeded after the rebellion to the estate of his uncle John Dutton, and several of the other sons left the country. The family, however, was continued in England by William Dutton, Esq., and after him came his brother Sir Ralph Dutton who was created a baronet 22 June, 1678, and who was succeeded by his eldest son Sir John Dutton. Sir Ralph's daughter Anne married James Naper, Esq., and their son James Lenox Naper inherited the estate of his uncle John Dutton, (who died in 1743 without issue,) and assumed the name of Dutton. This James dying in 1776 left issue James Dutton, M. P. for Gloucestershire, who was elevated to the peerage 20 May 1784, by the title of Baron Sherborne. He died in 1820 and was succeeded by his eldest son John Dutton who now wears the title.—BURKE'S LANDED GENTRY &C.

Lysons states that the Duttons of Sherborne, as also the Duttons of Claughton in the East Riding of Yorkshire, who are supposed to have been long extinct, were descended from Richard Dutton, uncle of Sir Piets Dutton of Hatton. He should probably have said great uncle.

Grosvenour of Houlme in Allostock, Esquire, 1464, and had Issue Peter Dutton junior, Rafe, Richard, and Randle.

4. Peter Dutton of Hatton Esquire, Son and Heir of Peter, married Elizabeth Daughter of Sir Robert Fouleshurst of Crew in Cheshire, and had Issue Sir Piers Dutton, who was adjudged next Heir Male to all Dutton Lands, 26 Hen. 8. XVIII. Sir Piers Dutton of Hatton and Dutton both, Son and Heir of Peter Dutton of Hatton Esquire, was a Knight 19 Hen. 8, and adjudged next Heir Male to Lawrence Dutton Esquire, [XVII.] 26 Hen. 8, 1534. He is the eighteenth Lord of Dutton since the Conquest, and the fifteenth Person in Lineal Descent from Odard. He built the Hall and New Buildings of Dutton-House, which he joynted to the Chappel, Anno 1539, before which time the House stood a little more remote from the Chappel.* He had two Wives. Elinour Daughter of Thomas Legh of Adlington was his first Wife, by whom he had Issue Peter Dutton, eldest Son, who died without Issue; Hugh Dutton, second Son; Rafe Dutton, third Son, to whom his Father gave all Hatton Lands, from whom the Duttons of Hatton† yet in being, 1666, are propagated; Katharine, a Daughter, married Sir Roger Pilston of Emrads: afterwards she married Richard Grosvenour, younger Son of the Grosvenours of Eaton-boat: Elizabeth married William Manley of Manley; afterwards she married

* The remains of Dutton-Hall, once the splendid mansion of the ancient family of Dutton, are now converted into a farm house; the hall appears to have been spacious and handsome with an enriched wooden roof; it is now converted into several rooms and divided into two or three floors. Over the principal door are the arms of Dutton quartering Hatton, and this inscription in text hand:

Sir Peyrs Dutton Inygght Lorde of Dutton, and my Lady Dame Julian his wife made this hall and buylding in the yere of our Lord God a M C C C C X I I I

The same John sued Raufe Dutton of Hatton, his Uncle, for all Hatton Lands, as Heir at Law: But this Suit was composed by the award of Robert Earl of Leycester, the fifth day of July, 14 Eliz. 1572, wherein he gave to John Dutton the Lands of Claverton, and in Honbridge in the City of Chester, and in Littleton in Cheshire, and the Lands in Harden and Mancote in Flintshire, and also 500 Marks to be paid by Raufe Dutton to the said John: And all the rest of Hatton Lands he continued and gave to Raufe Dutton.

So ended the Family of Dutton of Dutton.

The foregoing account of the Duttons of Dutton, in Cheshire, England, is taken from "Leycester's Historical Antiquities," pp. 248-260. The quaint spelling in the original has been preserved, but the author's many references to other authorities have been omitted. It may be noticed that he gives the names of Rafe and Raufe for Ralph, and Piers for Peter; while the spelling of many other names varies from the more modern style.

THE DUTTONS OF PENN.

While nothing is at present known respecting the ancestry of John Dutton, the settler in Pennsylvania, it would be idle to assert that he belonged to this or that branch of the family ; yet it is safe to assume that he was descended from the great Odard of more than 600 years before. At a moderate computation the descendants of one person, at the end of such a period, would exceed the total population of England ; but as John came from Cheshire, the ancient home of the Duttons, we do not need the full benefit of this calculation. He was probably descended from one of the younger branches which possessed neither titles nor great estates, and it is possible that even he was ignorant of his relationship to those who were so possessed.

It appears that he had identified himself with the Quakers in his native land, and thus became exposed to the persecutions which an intolerant populace, with more zeal than humanity, heaped upon this quiet and peaceable sect. Several of his neighbors who had suffered persecution came also to Pennsylvania, and as some of them became the ancestors, maternally, of some of the Duttons, the following recital of their sufferings may be of interest to their descendants.

From Besse's "Sufferings of the Quakers," we learn that Robert Taylor of Clutterwick in Cheshire, and twenty eight others, were indicted "for unlawfully assembling together at the house of John Dove in Coddington, within the County aforesaid, the 19th Day of November last past, [1662,] upon Pretence of joining together in religious Worship of God ;" and for this offence were imprisoned.

In 1674 or 1675 Thomas Brassey, for preaching at Willison, had goods taken from him worth £26. "About the same time, by warrants from Justice Manwaring, Cattle and Goods worth about £100 were taken from sundry persons in and about Namptwich. The chief Informer was one John Widowbury of Hanklow Esq., who being indebted £40 upon Bond to Thomas Brassey, a Member of that Meeting ; upon his Demand of Payment was incensed against him, and thus vented his Wrath upon his Friends. He also got an old Excommunication revived against the said Thomas Brassey and sent him to prison, and swore that he would send his wife thither also."

1678. "John Simcock, fined for Preaching, had taken from him eight Cows and eleven Heifers, worth £90.

Anno 1681. "John Simcock of Stoak, by the Statute of 23 Eliz., made against Popish Recusants, had Goods taken from him worth £40."

"In the same year Distresses were made on the Goods and Chattels of many Persons in this County, for Fines laid on them for their Absence from the National Worship, to the Amount of £17 and upwards. And such as had no Goods, which through frequent seizures was the case of some, were sent to Prison; of whom were Thomas Frier of Kingsley, Thomas Stretch of Overton, and John Cotton of Frodsham. From one JOHN DUTTON of Overton the Prosecutors extorted a Demand of 7s. by forcibly haling him out of his House when his family were in Bed, carrying him to an Alehouse, and threatening instantly to send him to Goal: by which they so affrighted a Kinswoman of his that she paid them." Vol. I. p. 108.

1683. On the 31st of the Month called January, Thomas Needham and Philip Egerton, Justices, came to a Meeting at Newton, and finding a Person at Prayer, Justice Needham fell upon him, beat him on the head and punched him on the breast with his cane, pulled his Neckcloth in pieces and threw him down and kicked him. He also struck several others so that their Heads were swelled with the Blows. The other Justices desired him to forbear, saying, let us prosecute the Law upon them but not abuse them. Thus checked he forbore striking but continued railing; telling them they were Dogs, and no Men; no more Christians than their Horses, &c. Then they took their names, fined them, and granted Warrants for Distress, by which was taken

"Thomas Roland of Acton was also fined 5s, which a neighbour paid to keep him from Prison, he having no goods left; for all his personal Estate had been lately seized by an Exchequer Process for 20l per month, for absence from his Parish Church."

"In 1670, several Inhabitants of Edlestone, Stoake, and adjacent places, suffered for their religious meetings, Distress of Goods to the value of 86 l, 17 s. It was observed that when Thomas Badcock a man active in making Distress on the Goods of John Simcock, one of the sufferers, was soon after visited with sickness, he complained that his having an hand in that persecution did grievously burden his conscience; wherefore he sent to the said John Simcock who visited him in a tender Christian spirit, freely forgiving the Injury done to himself, and also prayed to the Lord to forgive him."

Such was the spirit with which the early Friends were persecuted, and such the spirit in which that persecution was received. These are comparatively mild examples of persecution, but we may readily suppose that the sufferers felt it desirable to exchange their situation, for one in which they might enjoy their religious opinions without restraint; even though this freedom were obtained at the expense of the hardships and privations incident to a new settlement. Such an asylum was now to be established. In 1681 William Penn, a wealthy Quaker, obtained from King Charles II, a Charter for a large province in America, to which he wished to give the name of Sylvania, but the King ordered the prefix Penn to be added in honor of Admiral Penn the father of the grantee. William Penn immediately offered his lands for sale at forty shillings per hundred acres, and within the same year found purchasers for a large amount, which was to be surveyed and laid out thereafter in Pennsylvania. Among these purchasers were John Simcock, Robert Taylor, Thomas Brassey and Thomas Rowland, whose names have already been mentioned. The last obtained one thousand acres by deeds of lease and release, dated 2nd and 3rd of March 1681-2; and by an Indenture dated 22nd of May 1682, in which he is styled "of the County Palatine of Chester, yeoman," conveyed one half thereof to "John Dutton of Overton* in the said County, yeoman, and Mary his wife"; "for divers good causes but especially in consideration of the sum of ten pounds." There is a tradition that Thomas Rowland was an uncle to Mary Dutton and it is probable there was some connection between the families. Whether the ties of relationship were among those "divers good causes," or not, it appears the money paid was no less in amount than the price at which William Penn was then selling land.

As witnesses to the last mentioned conveyance were Robert Taylor and Thomas Brassie who came over to Pennsylvania soon after, and it was doubtless on account of their prospective emigration that it was considered desirable to have their signatures to the writing. Thomas Brassie arrived here the same year and it is likely that Robert Taylor came about the same time, though his wife and most of his children did not arrive until the 29th of 7th month 1683. It is even not improbable that Thomas Brassie, Robert Taylor and John Dutton all came together. The first settled in Chester township, the second† in Springfield, and the last in Aston township, (now) Delaware County.

The Surveyor General directed the following order to his deputy in Chester County :

"By order and Directions from the Governor for setting out Lands to the Purchasers in Pensilvania, &c: I hereby Authorize thee to survey or lay out to Tho: Rowland's assign four hundred and eighty acres on the western side of Upland Creek, next to Nathaniel Evans; and next lay out to John Warel two hundred and forty acres; and next lay out to John Neild two hundred and forty acres; and next

* The township of Over lies about five miles nearly south of the ancient family seat of Dutton.

† Robert Taylor was styled of "Little Leigh" in the old Deeds, while his wife and children were said to have come from Clatterwitch, which latter place was a hamlet in Little Leigh and formerly owned by the Duttons, as may be seen on page 16. J. Bayard Taylor of Chester County, the widely known traveler and author, is descended from Robert Taylor by the following line: Robert,—Isaac,—Josiah,—Abraham,—John,—Joseph,—J. Bayard Taylor.

John Edge, one hundred and twenty ; and return to me a true Duplicate of the field work and Protracted figures which are to remain in my office.

Dated the 10th of ye 7 mo., 1682.

THO: HOLME, Surv'r.

To Charles Ashcome, Surveyor."

To which the following return was made :

"October the 8th 1682. Laid out for John Dutton 500 of Land on the west side of Upland creek, beginning at Nathaniel Evans' corner tree," &c. The courses run were W. S. W. "into the woods," 565 perches to a red oak : N. W. 150 perches to a white oak : E. N. E. 598 perches to a red oak by the creek, and down the same to the beginning.

The return was signed by

CHARLES ASHCOM.

250 acres were laid out to John Neild Dec 10th 1682, next to John Duttons land, on the north.

The Dutton tract was about half a mile in width, and a little more than a mile and three-quarters in length ; extending from Upland (now Chester) Creek W. S. W. across the present township of Aston ; the northern line just touching the western branch of the creek. By a re-survey twenty years later it was found to contain five hundred and ninety acres. Tradition says that John Dutton settled on this land and built a house in the meadow near the creek, but being disturbed by floods, he removed a few rods further back and erected his dwelling on a large rock near a small rivulet. A portion of this rock may still be seen near the road from Rockdale to Village Green ; the remainder having been removed for building purposes some years ago. There are the usual traditions of bears and other wild animals being plentiful in the woods ; of shad and other fish in the creek ; of hardships and privations in which they were assisted by the Indians who presented them with venison, &c.

The time of John Dutton's death is unknown, but his widow was married again, as early as 1694, to John Neild, who was also one of the first settlers in Aston. He was not a Quaker and the marriage gave occasion for the following minute of Chester Monthly Meeting of women Friends, held the 1st of the 5th month, 1695.

"The meeting orders Lydia Carter and Ann Brown to speak to Mary Neeld, to see if she be willing to condemn her taking of John Neeld to be her husband, he not being in the profession of the truth."

The following somewhat quaint entries from the Court Records are here presented. The full meaning of the second is not obvious.

12th Dec. 1693, "John Neales exhibited a petition to this Court for the custom of the country,—This being the second Court ; he having served his time faithfully, and his Indentures being brought in Court and expresses the custom of the country to be paid him. The Court's order is that his master Robert Taylor shall pay him the said custom ; (his master Robert Taylor being called and asked where he had paid anything to him, said no, nor would not.) Only Justice Hayes does not give his consent to it, but all the rest does order it."

At a Court held at Chester the 12th of September, 1694.

"George Stroud in behalf of himself and Thomas Green, and John Green and Richard Moore Past off unto John Neale articles of agreement for the consideration of the sum of thirteen pounds thirteen shillings and eight pence; and six pounds three shillings and four pence unto the said John Neale's wife, during both the natural lives of the said John Neales and his now wife; to be paid at four equal payments yearly; that's to say, at the four festival days; that's to say, the first payment to begin on the 22nd day of December next, and to be paid in silver money at some house within three miles of the town of Chester, in the Province of Pennsylvania; and so the next at the 25th of March, and the next at the 24th of June; the next the 29th of September; and so to continue during the natural lives of the said John Neales and his wife. And the forenamed George Stroud delivered a Bond in behalf of the forenamed Thomas Green and himself, and John Green and Richard Moore, for the performance of the aforesaid payments. The Bond was for two hundred and fifty pounds, bearing date the twentieth day of August, 1694."

At Orphans' Court, 5th of March, 1694-5. "William Brown and John Baldwin was called and appeared to answer the complaint of John Dutton, Edward Dutton and Thomas Dutton. The Court allowed that John Neeld & Mary his wife, at the request of the orphans, be guardians for the above named complainants, and do also allow Thomas Cartwright and Joel Bailly as security for John Neald and Mary his wife, to the value of two hundred and fifty Pounds. And it is also ordered that the old Guardians' accounts be paid and cleared before us at the Court by the new ones."

No Will or Letters of Administration on the estate of John Dutton senior have been found, and it is not very clear what property rightfully belonged to his sons. The land purchased before leaving England was conveyed to both John and Mary Dutton, and as the survivor she became sole owner. Samuel Hall of Aston, who holds a part of the original tract, as well as the old deeds, thinks he formerly had among his papers a document of the nature of a marriage settlement between John Neild and Mary Dutton, but cannot find it now. It is probable there was some arrangement for securing to her children the joint estate of their parents, but whether this was the case or not, it would appear from the Grand Jury's return of a road laid out 17th of 2 mo., 1699, that three of her sons were in possession of or occupied the 500 acres of land, under some recognized division thereof. The road was laid out for the inhabitants of Concord, Bethell, Birmingham and Thornbury, on lands of Margaret Green, Thomas Green, Edward Penick, Edward Dutton, Robert Dutton, John Dutton, John Baldwin, John Bayles, and William Browne, to Joseph Coebourn's mill. The land of Edward Dutton was of his own purchasing, while the road did not touch on the share of his brother Thomas. About the year 1702 or 1703, the township of Aston was resurveyed and a draft made showing some of the subdivisions, and from this it appears that Thomas, John and Robert Dutton then held their father's land. It was subsequently confirmed to them by deeds, as will be mentioned hereafter.

John Neild (Neild or Neal,) doubtless came from Cheshire, and perhaps with Robert Taylor, under contract to work for him, as suggested by his petition to Court "for the custom of the country;" which was probably a new suit of clothes at end of service. He bought land of Penn in England, 250 acres, which was laid out in Aston on the north side of and adjoining the Dutton tract. He also owned various other tracts in that neighborhood at a later date. His name is quite frequently mentioned in the Court records in connection with property, and there may have been more than one of the name but I have seen no proof of it. From the expression, "his now wife," it seems likely he was a widower when he married Mary Dutton, but this is only supposition.

Job and Mary Darlington of Darnhall in Cheshire, Eng., had sons, of whom John and Abraham came to Pennsylvania as early as 1711, and several of the letters written to them by their parents are still preserved. In one bearing date March 28th, 1713, they say, "Good Abraham and John pray present both our dear loves to our brother John Neild, and his wife our dear sister,—their sons unknown to us,—and all his family; hoping that he will take a fatherly care of you in our stead now you are so far off us." From this the inference is strong that Mary Neild was a sister of Job Darlington. Another letter dated May 2nd, 1717, mentions an expectation of Robert Dutton coming to Cheshire to look after brother Neild's concerns, he having left property there which was rented. Jan. 30th, 1718-9, Job Darlington writes, "Good children remember my kind love and my wife's to brother Neild and his wife, unknown;" from which it appears that John Neild had married again. I do not find that he had any children by the widow of John Dutton.

John Neild of Aston died intestate, and letters of administration on his estate, were granted to his widow, Elizabeth, May 18th, 1724. She was married again in that year to William Jefferis, and it appears that she was the daughter of Nathaniel Ring.

Abraham Darlington petitioned the Court representing that John Neild, "a near Relation of this petitioner," died intestate, leaving a wife and four children, and a considerable estate. The children were Elizabeth, John, Jane and Elias,—all minors and the two younger ones born after 1720. It is likely the last wife was much younger than her husband and she survived him many years. Some of her grandchildren by the second marriage are yet living. Jane Neild married John Hannum of Concord, and was the mother of Col. John Hannum of Revolutionary fame.

Those Friends who settled in Aston township, belonged at first to Chester Monthly Meeting; but Chichester meeting being more convenient to many of them, they at length made application to be joined to the Monthly Meeting of Chichester and Concord, then embracing these two particular meetings, and now known as Concord Monthly Meeting. The meetings of business were then held at private houses in rotation, and at one of these held 6 mo. 10th, 1696, at the house of John Kingsman in Chichester, "Robert Pyle reports to this meeting concerning Aston friends to be joynd to Chechester & Concord, that Chester meeting friends have bin Confered with by sum friends of Chechester, and they desired to consider of it till their next monthly meeting. This meeting continues Robert Pyle, with some women friends, to attend ye next monthly meeting of Chester friends to consumate ye Bussiness."

At the next monthly meeting held 7 mo. 14th, 1696, at Jacob Chandler's residence, called Jacob's well, "Robert Pyle Reports to this meeting that the Bussiness of Joyning Aston friends to the monthly meeting of Chechester & Concord is Efected by Joynt Consent of Chester friends."

Among those whose rights of membership were thus transferred to Chichester meeting were the Duttons, whose descendants in some of the branches have continued to be members of the same meeting to the present day. From the records of Concord Monthly Meeting, of which Chichester meeting is a branch, considerable information has been obtained respecting the movements of the early members of the family, which will be noted in the following pages.

SECOND GENERATION.

Children of John (No. 1,) and Mary Dutton.

2. Elizabeth, b. in England; d. in Penna. 10, 23, 1682; as recorded by Chester Monthly Meeting.

3. John, supposed to have been born in England about 1675. The Court records show that a servant girl, named Isabella Dugles, was indentured to him for five years from the 14th Dec. 1697, yet being unmarried it is a question whether he was keeping house at that time. He was one of the grand jury in the 10th Month 1699, as also in Nov. 1703, Aug. 1704, and Aug. 1705:—appointed supervisor of Aston, Nov. 23, 1710. At a Court held Nov. 1702, "William Brown and John Dutton is appointed fence viewers for ye township of Astown."

At a monthly meeting held at Henry Oborn's in Concord 7 mo. 11th, 1704, John Dutton and Elizabeth Kingsman declared their intentions of marriage with each other. James Brown and Joel Bailly were appointed to inquire into his clearness from others. At the next meeting, held 9 mo. 13th, at Elizabeth Newlin's in Concord, they appeared and declared their intentions of marriage the second time, and no obstruction appearing they were given liberty to proceed. Joel Baily was appointed to see that the marriage was orderly accomplished, of which he made report at the next meeting, held 10 mo. 11th, 1704.

Elizabeth Kingsman, daughter of John and Hannah Kingsman, was born 9 mo. 6th, 1685, and was consequently but little over 19 years old at her marriage. Her mother was the daughter of John Simcock of Ridley township, some of whose sufferings in England on account of his religion have been noticed. Her father's mother was Alice Kingsman, of Marlborough in Wiltshire, as appears by letters to her children in this country.

March 15th, 1708, John Neeld of Aston, yeoman, and Mary Neeld his now wife convey to her son John Dutton 200 acres in Aston,—it being the middle part of the original tract,—for £90. This tract by survey contained 230 acres. John Dutton had previously purchased from Thomas Cartwright two tracts in Aston, of 100 and 150 acres, but sold the greater part of these in 1708 to William Rattew. In 1712 he bought 55 acres, or one half of his brother Robert's part of the original tract, and in the same year obtained 625 acres in Marlborough township, Chester County, which had belonged to John Simcock.

John Kingsman resided in Chichester township, probably near the line of Aston, where he owned 200 acres of land. This he devised to his only surviving child, Elizabeth Dutton, during her life; while he gave to each of his grand-daughters, Hannah and Mary Dutton, £10 and a silver cup. He died about the beginning of the year 1721, and it is likely that John Dutton removed with his family to the above land in Chichester not long after. He was living there in 1731, and in that year conveyed his lands in Aston to John Biard or Bayard.

Both John Dutton and his wife were active members of the meeting and frequently appointed on committees. He was chosen overseer for Chichester meeting in 1708, but was released from that station at his own request in 1712. In 1728 he was appointed Elder in the room of Robert Pyle, and continued in that station until his death. 11 mo. 5th, 1729, Francis Reynolds and John Dutton were appointed for Chichester meeting to advise against the erection of tombstones, and to procure the removal of such as had been placed at graves.

In his will dated 1 mo. (March,) 21st, 1735-6, he gives a small sum of money to each of his children and the balance of property to his wife Elizabeth. It appears from the probate, a month later, that before the will could be prepared for signing he died; so that his death doubtless occurred on the above day.

5 mo. 7th, 1729, "Elizabeth Dutton is chosen overseer for Chichester meeting, Luce Dutton being removed by death." She was living in 1745, but the time of her death is unknown.

4. Edward, it appears, purchased from Thomas England 167 acres in Bethel township, adjoining the Aston tract, by deed of 1 mo. 8th 1697-8. He settled on this land and there continued to reside until his death. In 1704 he appears at Court as constable for Bethel township.

At a monthly meeting held 4 mo. 9th, 1701, at Thomas King's in Concord, Edward Dutton and Gwin Williams declared their intentions of marriage with each other. John Kingsman and John Bales were appointed to inquire concerning his clearness from others. At a monthly meeting held 6 mo. 11th, 1701, at Nicholas Pyle's in Concord, they declared their intentions of marriage the second time, and were allowed to proceed. John Kingsman was appointed to oversee the wedding but his report of it is not recorded.

Robert Dutton having obtained 110 acres of his father's tract in Aston, sold one half thereof to his brother Edward, by deed of Sept. 29th, 1712, and the latter with his wife Gwin conveyed the same, together with 50 acres adjoining in Bethel, to their son John, Jan. 10th, 1729. The homestead with 100 acres, Edward devised to his wife during her life, to pass at her death to his son John. He also devised to his son William £20, and to his daughter Mary Davis £5. His will was dated 10 mo. (Dec.) 24th, 1731, and proven on the 14th of March following.

Edward Dutton took but little part in the affairs of the meeting. In 1735 and '36 a dispute between his widow Gwin Dutton and John Chads is mentioned on the records, from which it appears that she had assumed some of her son William's debts, but was not willing to abide by the decision of the committee appointed to inspect the difficulty. 3 mo. 7th, 1744, a complaint came from Concord meeting that Gwin Dutton, now Bennett, had been married by a Justice to one not in membership. After some months she made an acknowledgment for her offence, which was accepted. Her death probably occurred about 1753, as a final settlement of her first husband's estate was made at that time.

5. Thomas, b. in England 3 mo. (May,) 1st, 1679. There is a tradition that when the family went up by an Indian path from Chester, to settle on their land in Aston, Thomas carried the tongs as his share of the load. This seems unlikely if they settled there in 1682, for in that case he would need to be carried himself. He was constable for "Ashtown" in 1703.

"At a monthly meeting held at Robert Pyle, his house, the 10th of the 1st month, 1700-1."

"Thomas Dutton and Leusy Barnott Laid their intention of marriage before this meeting, this being the first time; This meeting Appoynts John Bales and John Baldwin to inquire into his clearness, & Also into his Life and conversation, and make Report of the same to ye next monthly meeting."

"The 11th of ye 2d month, 1700. [1701?]"

"ffriends these are to satisfie you yt I have tould my mind to

John Baldwin and Leave it to your Consideration, wishing them well in their proseedure; 'This from John Neeld to friends of ye monthly meeting.'

"At a monthly meeting held at John Kingsman, his house, the 14th of the second month, 1701.

"Thomas Dutton and Leusy Barnott Laid their intention of mariag before this meeting, it being ye second time: friends finding things clear Left them to proseed in mariag According to ye good order of Truth.

"John Kingsman is ordered to Attend ye mariag to se yt things are decently managed, and make Report thereof to the next monthly meeting."

The overseer's report, is not recorded, but we may presume that the marriage was accomplished with due propriety within a week or two from the last date.

Lucy Barnard, b. 2 mo. 1681, was the daughter of Richard and Frances Barnard of Aston, who were among the earliest settlers, and said to have come from Sheffield, England. Her father died about the year 1698, and in 1702 her mother was again married to Thomas Bowater; in reference to which marriage the following minute was made by Concord Monthly Meeting, held 29th of 5th month, 1702.

"Thomas Boiter and ffrances Barnet Appeared att this meeting and declared their Intentions of marriage with Each other, this being the first time: frances having severall children, being a widow, this meeting ordereth with the advice of the preparative meeting, to settle things in good order betwixt her and her children before the next monthly meeting."

John Neild of Aston, yeoman, and Mary his wife convey to her son Thomas Dutton, by Indenture dated 1st mo., (March,) 15th 1708, 200 acres in Aston for £90; it being the easterly part of the original tract, and by survey 250 acres. Thomas also purchased 50 acres adjoining this in Aston, and 50 more over the creek in Middletown township, in 1713. It is said that he built a house of hewed logs of yellow poplar in 1704, nearly a mile west of the creek and on the original tract. This house remained standing and was occupied until 1850, when it was torn down by Mr. Huntingdon to make room for the Aston Ridge Seminary for young ladies.

Thomas Dutton was an active member of Chichester meeting, and very frequently appointed on committees and as a representative to the Quarterly Meeting. He was appointed overseer of Chichester meeting 12th mo. 9th 1707, in the room of James Whitticker, but was released 5 mo. 23, 1711, at his own request, and James Swaffer appointed in his stead. 10th mo. 14, 1713, he was again chosen overseer, James Swaffer having removed, but again released from the station by request 8 mo. 8, 1722, and Edward Robinson appointed in his place.

Lucy Dutton was also active in meeting affairs and occupied the station of overseer in Chichester meeting at the time of her death. She is said to have measured six feet without shoes, and some of her descendants have been quite tall and stout. She died with measles in the 10th month, 1728, in her 48th year. Thomas died with the small pox in the 10th month, (Dec.) 1731, but a short time before his brother Edward. His will here follows :

6. Robert, was probably the youngest child of John and Mary Dutton.

In 1701 a project was started of settling a township on the Maryland line, and several persons of Chichester, Aston, and the neighboring parts, agreed to take shares in the enterprise; each share to be one thousand acres. Among these were Robert Dutton and one Samuel Littler, who together took a share, or 500 acres each. A large tract of 18,000 acres was laid out the next year and divided into smaller parcels, for which the different purchasers drew lots. This large tract was called Nottingham, but by the running of Mason and Dixon's line nearly all of the original township fell into Maryland. Robert Dutton and Samuel Littler obtained two lots, one on each side, east and west, of the "Brick Meeting."

William Brown a worthy Friend and member of Chichester meeting took 1000 acres in the new township, and settled there in 1704. A meeting was established at his house the next year and held there until 1709, when a meeting house was built. A majority of the settlers having belonged to Chichester and Concord Monthly Meeting, the new meeting was considered a branch thereof, although forty miles distant as then estimated, and the bounds of another monthly meeting lay between.

At a monthly meeting held at Philip Roman's in Chichester 7 mo. 8th 1707, Robert Dutton of Nottingham and Ann Brown of the same township appeared and declared their intentions of marriage. Andrew Job of the same meeting and John Baldwin of Astowne were appointed to inquire into his clearness from others.

At a monthly meeting held at John Kingsman's in Chichester, 8 mo. 13th, 1707, they appeared the second time and were given permission to proceed in marriage. Andrew Job and John Churchman were appointed as overseers, and they reported 12 mo. 9th 1707, that the marriage was orderly accomplished at the house of William Brown of Nottingham, on the 13th of the 9th month. She was the daughter of William and Ann (Mercer) Brown, and was born 10 mo. 1st 1687.

John Neeld of Aston and wife Mary, by deed of 6 mo. (Aug.) 15th 1712, convey to her son Robert Dutton "of Aston," 100 acres in Aston for £45. This was the west end of the original tract, and in reality 110 acres. Robert Dutton "of Nottingham," yeoman, and wife Ann convey to his brother Edward Dutton of Bethel, yeoman, 55 acres in Aston, Sept. 29, 1712, for £30. They also convey at same time and price 55 acres to his brother John Dutton of Aston; it being the remainder of the 110 acres.

At a monthly meeting held 1 mo. 13th, 1709-10, at Elizabeth Newlin's in Concord:—"Friends from Nottingham meeting Request to this meeting for John Bales [Beal] and Robert Dutton to be overseers in the room of William Brown and John Churchman: this meeting doth allow of it till further orders."

At a monthly meeting held 2 mo. 14th 1712, William Brown senior and James King were appointed overseers for Nottingham meeting, instead of John Bales and Robert Dutton, who desired to be released.

In 1715, Nottingham meeting was joined to Newark (now Kennett) Monthly Meeting, on account of being nearer, and on the establishment of Newgarden Monthly Meeting, in 1718, it became a branch of that. Nottingham Monthly Meeting was separated from Newgarden about 1730.

At Newgarden Monthly Meeting held 8 mo. 13th 1722:—"Robert Dutton has requested of this meeting a certificate in order to go to Antegoe or Jamaica about his occasion, in way of trading, therefore this meeting appoints John Churchman & James Wright to make inquiry concerning the settlement of his affairs, & of his conversation, & to give an account to next monthly meeting."

9 mo. 10th, 1722:—"The friends appointed to make inquiry concerning Robert Dutton have given an account that he has settled his affairs & hath consent of his wife: therefore the meeting granted him a certificate."

5 mo. 13th 1725:—"Robert Dutton having returned from Antegoa hath produced a certificate from thence to this meeting's satisfaction, & also returned the certificate he had from our monthly meeting." "Robert Dutton acquaints this meeting that he again desires to go to Antegoa, & in order thereto requests of us a Certificate: therefore this meeting appoints James Wright & James King to make inquiry into his conversation & circumstances, & prepare a certificate as they find things, & to make report to next monthly meeting."

Anne Dutton of Cecil Co. Md. was married 9 mo. 23, 1736, at the house of William Brown senior in Nottingham, to John Underhill of Cecil County. Those who were appointed by Nottingham Monthly Meeting to inspect her affairs before marriage, reported that her former husband's estate was settled by Law. Among the signers to her marriage certificate were Robert Dutton and Elizabeth Dutton, —doubtless her children. No further particulars have been obtained respecting her former husband or herself.

THIRD GENERATION.

Children of John (No. 3) and Elizabeth Dutton.

7. John, farmer, m. 8 mo. 4th, 1733, at Chichester meeting, to Prudence, dr. of Francis and Elizabeth (Acton) Reynolds of Chichester township. She was born 1 mo. 16, 1713. A complaint was made to the meeting 5 mo. 16, 1750 that John Dutton had been married by a priest, and for this he made an acknowledgment; but whether he was the above John, or his cousin, son of Thomas, is unknown. The above John became reduced in his circumstances, for it appears that the meeting paid for his board with his son-in-law Shelley in 1769.

8. Hannah, m. 8 mo. 29, 1730, at Chichester meeting, to Nathaniel Scarlet, farmer, son of Humphrey and Ann of Chichester. They removed to Newgarden township, Chester Co., the next year and became members of Londongrove meeting. Nathaniel died 11 mo. 2, 1784, in his 85th year. Hannah died 12, 31, 1782, in her 80th year it is said, but she could not have been so old.

Humphrey Scarlet of Chichester married Anne, widow of Anthony Weaver, and daughter of Joseph and Jane Richards of Aston. Their children were JOHN, m. Eleanor ———; SHADRACH, m. Phebe Bowater; NATHANIEL, (above); HUMPHREY; MARY, m. Thomas Hall; SUSANNA, m. Daniel Brown, 1721; ELIZABETH, m. Richard Cox, 1726; REBECCA, m. ——— Brown. The father died in 1746.

9. Mary, married Joseph Cobourn but nothing is known respecting her descendants. She was married "by a priest" prior to 4 mo. 1733, and refusing to make an acknowledgment, was disowned by the meeting.

10. Kingsman, carpenter, after the death of his mother became the owner of 200 acres of land in Chichester township, adjoining the south west corner of Aston. This was devised to him by his grandfather John Kingsman, doubtless on account of his name. The following extracts relate to his marriage, and will serve to show the manner of proceeding in such cases.

1 mo. 7th, 1736-7; "Chichester friends acquaints this meeting that Kingsman Dutton has gone to a priest and was married: this meeting appoints Joseph Pyle and Daniel Brown to spake with him and request him to come to our next monthly meeting."

2 mo. 4, 1737; "Those friends which were to spake to Kingsman Dutton reports they have spoke with him, but not appearing here this meeting appoints Joseph Pyle and Daniel Brown to acquaint him that if he do not come to the next meeting to give satisfaction, friends will be nesseeated to give Testimony against him, and report to our next meeting."

4 mo. 6, 1737; "The friends appointed to spake to Kinsman Dutton reports that he utterly refuses to give any satisfaction for his marring by a priest, therefore this meeting appoints Joseph Pyle & Ralph Eavenson to draw up a Testimony against him and bring it to our next meeting."

5 mo. 4, 1737; "Whereas Kinsman Dutton having been Educated in religious profession with us the people called Quakers, but he not regarding the rules of our Religious Society, he was married by or before a Priest; for which Errour of his he have several times been vissited in order to prevail with him to condemn the same, but those vissits not having the Desired Effect, therefore this meeting Declares him the said Kinsman Dutton to be no member of our religious society, until he from a sence of his Errour do Condemn the same, and do make such acknowledgment as shall be to the satisfaction of our said meeting; the which we sincerely desire he may."—Concord Monthly Meeting.

The early Friends designated as "priests" all ministers of other denominations who officiated for wages.

Anne Dutton, wife of Kingsman Dutton, is believed to have been the daughter of Francis and Barbara Routh, and grand-daughter of Lawrence and Ann Routh, who came from Yorkshire, Eng., in 1688.

Kingsman erected a neat two-story brick house which is still standing, near the east branch of Chichester creek, about half a mile from the south-west corner of Aston township: now owned by Benjamin Elliott. In the east gable is a stone bearing the initials D., K. & A., and the date 1753. The ruins of a saw mill are near by.

Kingsman died about the year 1765, and his estate having become involved, was sold by the Sheriff in 1768. Anne became a member of meeting in 1748, and was living in 1774, but the time of her death is unknown.

11. Jacob, it appears, was disowned 11 mo. 4, 1741, for having gone out in his marriage with one who was not a member of the society. He resided in Upper Chichester, where he died intestate, and letters of administration on his estate were granted to his widow Hannah Dutton, Aug. 16th 1749. She subsequently married Charles Henszey or Henzley, and they filed accounts of their administration in 1752.

12. Joseph, millwright, m. 10 mo. 21, 1742, Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Thomas (and Elinor ?) of Birmingham township. This marriage was by a "priest," and he made an acknowledgment therefor to the meeting, 6 mo. 1st 1743. He continued a member during his life but took no part in church affairs, while his children do not appear to have been considered members at any time. He died 6 mo. 14, 1773, having survived his wife.

13. Robert, born prior to 1719, as he and the foregoing children of John and Elizabeth Dutton are mentioned in their grandfather

Kingsman's will of that date. He married out of the society, for which he made an acknowledgment to the meeting, 6 mo. 1st, 1743, but there is no further mention of him on the records. There is reason to suppose his wife was of the Crosby family.

14. James. At Concord Monthly Meeting held 10 mo. 8, 1753, Chichester meeting complained of James and Isaac Dutton for marriage by a priest, and William Peters and Joseph Gibbons were appointed to visit them. Their case was continued for several months, and 1st mo. 7th 1754 it was mentioned that "the said Duttons Lives at a considerable Distance." 3 mo. 4th 1754, one of the friends appointed reports that he had an opportunity with James and Isaac Dutton, and they proposed to be at the meeting in the 5th month to make satisfaction, but being under an engagement to finish a piece or work could not come sooner. 9 mo. 2nd 1754, "Isaac nor James Dutton not appearing here in order to make friends satisfaction for their outgoing, notwithstanding friends several visits of Love, this meeting therefor appoints Benja. Reynolds and Wm. Clayton to draw a Testimony Separatly against them, and bring to next meeting."

It has not been ascertained what business the brothers were engaged in. James Dutton of Northern Liberties, Philadelphia county, died Aug. 1st, 1769, aged 45; and in his will dated six days prior to his death devised all his property to his wife Hannah during her life. She died Oct. 1st 1798, aged 65, and as they were both interred in the Coates family burying ground, now the S. E. corner of 3rd and Brown Streets, Philadelphia, it is likely that she was connected with that family.

15. Isaac, doubtless married about the same time as his brother James, and the two removed in company. His wife Mary was the daughter of John Coates of Philadelphia, brickmaker, who died about 1760. The will of Isaac Dutton of Kensington Phila. was dated Oct. 9, 1760, and proven Mar. 2, 1761; in which he gives all his estate to his wife during her life; and this included some lots on Delaware river, extending back to Queen Street. She, it appears, had been previously married to a Wright who left three children, George, Mary and Lydia. The will of Mary Dutton of Northern Liberties was dated Sept. 29, 1786, and proven May 26, 1791. She owned lots on Coates and Brown Streets which she devised to her daughters Mary Eyres, Lydia Eyres, and Sarah Brown, whom she appointed her executors.

16. Amy. At a meeting held 6 mo. 7, 1749, Chichester Friends informed that Emy Dutton, now Talley, had been married by a priest: and Elenor Peters and Esther Larkin were appointed to visit her. She declined to make any acknowledgment, but rather preferred to be disowned, which was accordingly done 11 mo. 1st 1749. Nothing further known respecting her.

Children of Edward (No. 4.) and Gwin Dutton.

17. Mary, m. 9 mo. 27, 1728, at Concord meeting, to Daniel Davis of Birmingham township, Chester County, son of John and Mary of Thornbury. Her descendants not ascertained.

18. John. To him his father gave two adjoining tracts of land.—the one of 50 acres in Bethel, and the other of 55 acres in Aston,—by deed of Jan. 10, 1729. By the will of his father, he was also to have the homestead in Bethel, after the death of his mother.

At Concord Monthly Meeting 12 mo. 7, 1736-7; "This meeting being informed that John Dutton, son of Edward Dutton, Deceased, was married by a Priest, and also hath joyned himself to the Pristitarian Society: this meeting appoints Thomas Marshall and Joseph Cloud to treat with him in order to know the certainty of it, and report to our next meeting,"

1 mo. 7, 1736-7; The friends appointed reports that John Dutton "says that he thought it to be Deuty to Joyne himself to another society; therefor this meeting do esteem ye said John Dutton to be no member of our Religious Society."

From the records of Christ Church, (Prqt: Episcopal,) of Philadelphia, is obtained the marriage, "1735. Nov. 4. John Dutton & Elizabeth Dunlap."

John Dutton died intestate and letters of administration on his estate were granted to Elizabeth, his widow, and Richard Dutton, March 21, 1748-9. Hugh Lynn and Hugh Trimble were appointed guardians of the children, Dec. 1749. In 1761 the widow and children petitioned the Orphans' Court for a division of the property, which was accordingly ordered.

19. William. Edward Dutton devised to his son William Dutton "if living, the sum of Twenty pounds; to be paid to him within the compass of three years after his coming here," from which it would appear that he had gone from home.

9 mo. 3, 1735, Concord meeting complained of William Dutton for not paying his just debts, and at the next meeting Henry Oborn and Robert Wilson were appointed to treat with him about absenting himself. 12 mo. 2, 1735, the friends appointed reported that William Dutton "did declare that he did not desire aney ways to belong to our Religious society; therefore this meeting doth declare the said William Dutton to be no member of our society."

After this he is only incidentally mentioned in 1736, and all further trace of him is lost.

Children of Thomas (No. 5.) and Lucy Dutton.

20. Thomas, b. 3 mo. 1702; d. 10 mo. 1728, with the measles, unmarried.

21. Rebekah, b. 8 mo. 19, 1709; d. 10 mo. 1731, with the small-pox, unmarried.

22. Richard, b. 10 mo. 8, 1711; m. 8 mo. 7, 1733, at Middletown meeting, to Mary Martin, daughter of Thomas and Mary of Middletown township, She was born 6 mo. 30, 1711, and died 1 mo. 26, 1782. Her father was the only son of John and Elizabeth Martin, who came from Edgcott in Berkshire, Eng., and her mother was the daughter of Giles and Mary (English) Knight of Byberry, Philadelphia Co.

Richard inherited his father's part of the original Dutton tract in Aston, and built thereon a comfortable and substantial stone house, which is now in possession of Jacob Sides. A stone in the west gable bears the initials R. D. and M. D., and date 1749. Having purchased land in Chichester township, he removed thither, and in 1768 conveyed the above house with 109 acres of land to his son Thomas. Both he and his wife were active members of Chichester meeting, as well as among the most substantial citizens of the township. The present meeting house was built in 1769 and the date stone bears the initials R. D., which are said to be for Richard Dutton, and it is probable that he was the principal contributor to the expense of its erection. He died 2d mo. 18, 1795.

23. David, b. 12 mo. 28, 1713-4; d. 3 mo. 25, 1798. Although by birth a member of the Society of Friends, his name does not occur in their records nor was he considered a member; otherwise his marriage would have been noticed. His wife's name was Jane, but whose daughter she was is uncertain, unless we suppose her father was Joseph McClaskey, who in his will, dated 1753, mentions his daughter Jennett Dutton. David was a blacksmith and lived in Middletown on 50 acres of land devised to him by his father. Toward the close of his life he resided with his son in law, Jacob Yearsley, in Thornbury. He was a large and powerful man. In his will dated Mar. 21, 1798 he gave to his daughter Sarah Booth his silver shoe buckles, and directed his real estate in Middletown and Chester to be sold, and the proceeds divided between his four daughters; except that Lydia Mancil was to have £60 less than the others.

24. Lydia, b. 2 mo. 14, 1716; m. 6 mo. 30, 1739 at Chichester meeting to William Hewes, son of William and Mary of Chichester. She died 4 mo. 11, 1748, but it is not known that she left any children. William in his will dated 8 mo. 4, 1753, and proven the 18th of the same month, mentions his wife Rebecca and son Aaron; also appoints his brother John Hewes and brother in law Richard Dutton his executors, and says, "I will that my executors shall cause grave stones to be made and set up at the head and feet of the graves of my father and mother and my deceased wife and children, and also at my own grave."

Whether the will of the testator was executed in these respects has not been ascertained, but it is to be regretted that Friends have so generally excluded from their burial places those marks by which we might otherwise identify the last resting places of our ancestors.

25. Jonathan, b. 6 mo. 11, 1721; d. 10 mo. 18, 1745, intestate, unmarried, and without issue, and the land which his father had devised to him was inherited by his eldest brother Richard.

26. John, b. 7 mo. 6, 1721; d. 2 mo. 6. 1759. It is not known that he was ever married. He died at the house of Mary Hewes in Chichester where he happened to fall sick, and in his will of the same date devised nearly all his property to his brother David and sister Sarah.

27. Mary, b. 7 mo. 6, 1721. At Concord Monthly Meeting 4 mo. 3, 1745, Chichester meeting informed that Mary Dutton, daughter of Thomas Dutton, now Mary Grubb, had been married out to one who was not a member. For this she made an acknowledgment. but beyond this nothing is known of her or her family, except that an old record says that she died at the age of 38 yrs. 6 mo. 25 d.

28. Sarah, b. 8 mo. 22, 1725; m. John Power of Chichester, who was not a member, and she was consequently disowned 6 mo. 3, 1747. He died 2 mo. 1, 1791, and she 2 mo. 20, 1795, "intestate and without issue."

Children of Robert (No. 6,) and Ann Dutton.

29. Mary, b. 8 mo. 15, 1708; 30. Ann, b. 10 mo. 10, 1711; 31. Robert, b. 8 mo. 26, 1713. Nothing further is known of these three children.

32. Elizabeth, b. 1 mo. 25, 1722; m. 2 mo. 20, 1742, at East Nottingham meeting, to Joseph England of Kent Co. Md., son of Lewis England. The meeting record of births states that Joseph England "Livs at Joppa," but little has been ascertained respecting the family.

FOURTH GENERATION.

Children of John Dutton (No. 7,) and Prudence Reynolds.

33. Prudence, m. prior to 5 mo. 5, 1755, to —— Shelley "by a priest," for which she made an acknowledgment to the meeting. Nothing is known of her descendants.

34. John. A complaint was made to Concord Monthly Meeting, 3 mo. 6th 1765, of his marriage by a priest, for which he was disowned 7 mo. 3, 1765. In this year he was assessed in Upper Chichester with 74 acres and buildings, 2 horses, 3 cows, and 6 sheep; also rents received, £8 per annum. Daniel Brown of U. Chichester in his will dated Jan. 19, 1767, proven Dec. 12, 1767, mentions his granddaughter Rachel Dutton, wife of John Dutton ;—probably the above John. One John Dutton died Jan. 1, 1796, but whether the father, son, or a cousin is unknown. His descendants, if any, not ascertained.

35. Elizabeth, was disowned 3 mo. 5, 1766 for accompanying her brother in his disorderly marriage, and for her own marriage subsequently by a priest, to ——— Booth.

36. Benjamin, disowned 6 mo. 5, 1765, on complaint of card playing, &c., preferred by Chichester meeting.

37. Isaac, disowned 4 mo. 3, 1771 for his marriage by a priest. This is supposed to have been the Isaac Dutton who married Elizabeth Lampley, and owned the old Blue Ball tavern not far from Marcus Hook ; since torn down by Jonathan Larkin. He died Mar. 31, 1795. In 1783 Isaac Dutton was assessed in Lower Chichester with 177 acres, 2 horses and 5 cattle.

38. Henry, a minor, petitioned Court, 1768, as a grandson of Francis Reynolds, and Joseph Brown was appointed his guardian. In 1772 Henry Dutton was disowned by the meeting for absconding from his creditors. Nothing further known of him.

43. Hannah, b. 4 mo. 18, 1739 ; d. 11 mo. 18, 1802. She was married 4 mo. 17, 1765, at Londongrove meeting, to Isaac Baily, son of Thomas Baily of W. Marlborough township, where they continued to reside. She was his second wife. He died 1 mo. 16, 1826.

Children of Kingsman Dutton (No. 10,) and Anne Routh, 48. Francis, married Hannah, dau. of Joseph and Hannah Talbot of Middletown township,. After several years he removed westward, and died at Shepherdstown, Belmont Co., O. His grandson thinks he died about 1840, and a nephew says he was 95 years old. He married a second wife, Lydia Booth.

49. David, b. about 1756 ; m. in 1777 to Hannah, dau. of Robert and Mary (Talbot) Rogers, and a niece of his brother Francis's wife. She was born in Chester County, Pa., in 1761, and died at Harrisville, O. Nov. 14, 1837. At the time of the battle of Brandywine they were living near, and in the evening David assisted in caring for the wounded, and afterward in burying the dead. After some years they removed to Berkley County, Va., and settled at the foot of North Mountain, about twelve miles from Winchester. Some of their children having migrated to Ohio, they followed them in 1830, and spent their few remaining years at Harrisville in Harrison Co.

There may have been other children of Kingsman Dutton, but the above two are all that have been reported definitely to the writer.

Child of Jacob Dutton (No. 11,) and Hannah ———.

50. Rebecca. Upon the petition of Charles Henzley, her stepfather, the Court appointed Abraham Carter to be her guardian, Dec. 19, 1752. Upon her own petition Joseph Cloud was appointed her guardian June 17, 1760. Her further history unknown.

The above children are mentioned in their father's will, but the records of some of them are wanting.

Children of Robert Dutton (No. 13,) and ——— ———.

58. Susanna. 59. Hannah. John Crosby of Ridley in his will, dated Sept. 22, 1750, and proven Oct. 15, 1750, mentions his cousins (nieces?) Susanna and Hannah, daughters of Robert Dutton, which is all that is known of them.

Children of James Dutton (No. 14,) and Hannah ———

60. John, died July 5, 1799, aged 48 years; probably unmarried.

61. James, resided in Philadelphia on Front Street just above Coates, during the latter part of his life. It is not known that he was ever married. His death occurred Jan. 8, 1813, and in his will, dated Nov. 26, 1812, he devised £200 in trust to keep in repair the wall &c. of the Coates burying ground, where his father, mother, brother John, and aunt Sarah Evans had been buried, and where he wished to be buried. He also directed his executors to place a large stone across all their graves, with dates of births and deaths as in his old bible. This burying ground is now covered with buildings; the bodies having been removed several years ago to South Laurel Hill Cemetery. The inscriptions on the stones were copied into a book, but the Dutton stone was broken and not preserved. James Dutton also devised money to the guardians of the poor of the township of Northern Liberties;—the interest to be applied yearly to the benefit of the poor. This legacy is still in existence. His principal legatees were Maybury, Stephen and Nathan Witman.

They were both interred in the Coates burying ground, and a stone erected by her husband sets forth her many virtues, but this is all that is known of her family.

Children of John Dutton (No. 18,) and Elizabeth Dunlap.

64. John. 65. Elizabeth, m. Thomas Casey of Lower Chichester, blacksmith. 66. Mary. 67. Samuel, "cordwainer," was living in 1767. No descendants of the foregoing have been obtained.

68. David, it is supposed, married in 1772, Lydia, dau. of Jacob and Ann Sharpless of Middletown; who was born 12 mo. 31, 1754, and died in 1799. She was disowned for her marriage, which was before a magistrate, but in 1781 made an acknowledgment to the meeting, and was again received into membership, with her children Benjamin and Ann.

Children of Richard Dutton (No. 22,) and Mary Martin.

69. Thomas, b. 11 mo. 7, 1734-5; m. Hannah, dau. of Francis and Sarah Routh, who was born 10 mo. 15, 1736. She was probably a niece of Kingsman Dutton's wife. Their marriage was "by a priest," for which they made an acknowledgment to the meeting 9 mo. 10, 1761. Thomas settled on the homestead in Aston, which his father conveyed to him in 1768. In 1765 he was assessed with 100 acres and buildings, 20 acres of woodland, 3 horses, 4 cattle, 8 sheep, and one servant. His death occurred 3 mo. 21, 1775.

At the time of the battle of Brandywine, Sept. 11, 1777, Hannah

Dutton was a widow with five children ; of whom the oldest was in his 19th year, and the youngest not yet three. Her son Thomas, then in his ninth year, said that he went to school that morning, but when the booming of the distant cannon was heard from the scene of conflict, the teacher dismissed the scholars, saying, "Go home, children, I can't keep school to-day." A few days after the battle the British army arrived in the neighborhood, and encamped on the hills to the westward ;—a part of the camp being on the Dutton farm. Little Tommy marched boldly up to the camp, and drove the cows home lest they should be killed by the soldiers. An officer noticed him, and thinking no doubt there must be something good to eat where the cows belonged, ordered four soldiers to follow, and accompanied him home. As they walked along, the officer made various inquiries about the family, asking Tommy if his father was a rebel, —whether his older brother had a gun, and what he did with it, &c. Arriving at the house the four soldiers were stationed around it to prevent a surprise from any lurking rebels who might be in the neighborhood, while the officer entered. Hannah Dutton was somewhat alarmed at first, but was assured that the family would not be molested, with the exception that she must produce all the butter, cheese, milk, and other fresh provisions, that she could possibly spare ; for all of which the officer paid her, saying, they did not come to rob the people. She remarked that he had but one hand, to which he replied that he had lost the other in Flanders. Before leaving he informed her that the army would probably move from their encampment in a few days, and that she had better bolt and bar every door and window, to keep out the stragglers or camp followers, who, under plea of wishing to get a drink, or light a pipe, would try to gain admittance in order to steal whatever they could lay their hands upon. This timely warning was of use as events proved.

While the army was still encamped here, Thomas Dutton and another boy of the neighborhood strolled into the camp, when some of the soldiers, to tease them, prevented their return for a little time, and told them they were going to shoot the old men of the country, and hang the boys. Thomas thinking he certainly had a friend in the one handed officer, decided in case of trouble to inquire for him.

Hannah Dutton was married a second time 12 mo. 11, 1783, to Thomas Wilson of Chichester. Her death occurred 3 mo. 25, 1825. She was active in meeting affairs, and filled the station of overseer in Chichester meeting.

70. Hannah, b. 8 mo. 19, 1736, was married "by a priest," to Jonathan Richards, son of Joseph Richards of Aston. For this she made an acknowledgment to the meeting 10 mo. 3, 1757. She died 11 mo. 30, 1791.

71. Joseph, b. 3 mo. 31, 1741 ; d. 5 mo, 1742.

72. Rebekah, b. 1 mo. 28, 1743; m. 5 mo. 24, 1764, at Chichester meeting, to Vincent Pilkington, of Wilmington, Del.; son of Thomas and Rose of Middletown (now) Del. Co. Pa. They resided for some time in Wilmington, but afterwards removed to the neighborhood of York, Pa. Vincent died 4 mo. 30, 1813, and his widow on the 6th of the following month. Their descendants not ascertained.

73. Mary, b. 7 mo. 11, 1745; m. 6 mo. 26, 1766, at Chichester meeting, to William Booth of Aston, son of Robert. She died 10 mo. 28, 1767, and it does not appear that she left any child. William married again.

74. Jonathan, b. 11 mo. 3, 1747-8; m. in 1772, his first cousin, Martha, dau. of John and Alice (Martin) Beeson; for which he was disowned. In 1774 he made an acknowledgment, which was accepted by the meeting. In 1780 he became feoffee in trust of 200 acres of land in Kennett township, originally devised by John Packer for the benefit of the poor of Concord Monthly Meeting. He removed thither, and in 1781 conveyed the land to five persons appointed by the meeting, from whom in turn he took a lease for 999 years. He afterwards disposed of the lease and in 1789 returned to Chichester, where by the will of his father he became possessed of over 200 acres. He died 5 mo. 9, 1820, and his widow, 1 mo. 30, 1830. She was born 5 mo. 25, 1750.

147. Thomas, b. 2 mo. 2, 1769 ; d. 9 mo. 12, 1869, having lived to the unusual age of more than a century. He was but little more than six years old when his father died. When about fifteen years of age he obtained a situation with Thomas Marshall of Concord, as an apprentice to the tanning trade. After spending three years at this place, his master, being about to decline the business, took steps to provide another situation for him, and he accordingly went to Daniel Maule's in Radnor to finish his apprenticeship. Three years more being spent at this place he was now of age, and immediately began to make preparations for establishing himself in the tanning business. Finding that he could bring the water of a small rivulet to a favorable site on his grandfather's land in Aston, he obtained permission to build, and accordingly erected a dwelling house, partly of stone and partly of logs ; also a tan house, in the wall of which may be seen a stone bearing the initials T. D., and date 1790.

Being now established in business he was married at Radnor meeting, 11 mo. 24, 1791, to Sarah, daughter of John and Mary Jones of Lower Merion township, with whom he had made acquaintance during the latter part of his apprenticeship. Her father was the son of Robert Jones, and her mother the daughter of William and Ann Rowland.

Richard Dutton of Upper Chichester, now conveyed to his grandson Thomas Dutton of Aston, tanner, two acres of ground on which the latter had erected his buildings, by deed dated 12 mo. 20, 1791 : " in consideration of the natural love and affection which he has and do bear unto his said grandson, Thomas Dutton, and for his better advancement and preferment in this world." Thomas also obtained by the will of this grandfather a considerable tract of land surrounding these two acres, a part of which he continued to hold until his death.

He carried on the tanning business till the fall of 1808, when he was solicited to undertake the management of a farm at Tunessasa in Cattaraugus Co. N. Y., adjoining a Reservation on the Alleghany river, belonging to the Seneca Nation of Indians. This farm had been purchased by Friends of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, under a concern for the improvement and gradual civilization of the Indians, by giving them instruction in farming, as well as school education. Benjamin Cope had been there for some time, but having lost his wife was now about to relinquish the situation and return to his home in Chester County Pa. Thomas having consented to take his place, sat out in a carriage with his wife and children, and after an arduous journey, much of it through a wilderness, arrived at Tunessasa about the 18th of 10th month. On the way they were sometimes obliged to sleep by a fire in the woods, which, owing to snow and rain, was not always pleasant.

After a four years residence among the Indians they returned to their old home, but owing to the unsettled state of the country, from the breaking out of a war with England, it was thought inadvisable to resume the tanning business at that time. In the Spring of 1813, Thomas took charge of the County Poor-house in Upper Providence, and continued in that situation for four years.

His wife Sarah died 7 mo. 25, 1814, and on the 25th of 12 mo. 1816, he was married again, at West Chester meeting, to Amy, widow of Samuel Trimble, and daughter of Isaac and Hannah (Cope) Pim, deceased, of East Caln township, Chester County. She was the mother of Dr. Isaac P. Trimble, now of Newark, N. J. She was descended from the old and highly respectable family of Pim, who settled in Ireland more than two hundred years ago, and from whence came her great grandfather William Pim, in 1730; who settled in East Caln township. She was born 1 mo. 8, 1785, and died 2 mo. 26, 1825; leaving four children of her second marriage.

In 1817 Thomas Dutton resumed the tanning business, which he carried on with his usual energy for several years. He introduced a steam engine into his works, which is said to have been the first in the County, and various were the speculations throughout the neighborhood as to the feasibility of the experiment.

On the 15th of 11 mo. 1827, he was married a third time, to Mary, dau. of William and Sarah Yarnall of Thornbury. She was born 2 mo. 6, 1782, and died 3 mo. 11, 1857, leaving no children.

Thomas was joined in his business by his son Edmund, but did not continue it after the death of the latter in 1846. Having arrived at the age of seventy seven years he ceased to take an active part in any business, and slowly journeyed down the hill of life, yet not free from the ills and infirmities to which the human family is subject. His hearing became dull, his sight much impaired, and for some time before his death he was unable to walk without assistance, which, however, was partly owing to his corpulence. On the day of the Presidential election in 1868 he was taken to the polls in a carriage, and there deposited his ballot in favor of a brother tanner for the highest office in our government. He remembered hearing the firing of cannon on the occasion of the Declaration of Independence, and would often talk of incidents connected with the Revolutionary War, some of which have been previously mentioned. He voted for George Washington at his second election, and at every Presidential election since, except in 1808, when he was absent from home.

A few weeks before he completed his one hundredth year it was decided to have a meeting of his descendants and relatives to celebrate the anniversary of his birth, and about two days before the event he was asked by some of his family if he had any objections. After a short pause he replied, "I have no objection provided it is orderly conducted, and if so it will be a credit to me, and to you afterward." The writer was requested to prepare an outline of the family history, to be read on the occasion, and thereby unfortunately involved himself to some extent in the labor of its subsequent publication, with such additions as could conveniently be obtained, in the present form. An account of the meeting will be given hereafter. See Appendix.

Thomas Dutton was buried 9 mo. 15, 1869, at Chichester meeting, where doubtless lay his ancestors of three or four generations.

His widowed daughter Susan was his principal care taker during his last years, but we must not forget to mention Sarah Carpenter, who for several years presided over the domestic arrangements, and was as a daughter to the aged patriarch. A CENTENNIAL BIRTH-DAY CELEBRATION.

From the "American Republican" of Feb. 9, 1869.

On the 2nd inst. the descendants and relatives of THOMAS DUTTON met at his residence in Aston township, to celebrate the completion of his 100th year of existence. For some time previous considerable anxiety was felt lest the weather should prove stormy, and thus mar, if not entirely prevent, the anticipated pleasures of the day; but it turned out quite as favorable as could be expected, considering the season of the year. The day was cloudy, and consequently somewhat cool and chilly, but this was compensated by the ground remaining dry and frozen. Those from West Chester and vicinity proceeded by rail to Rockdale, where they arrived a few minutes before 9 o'clock, and were soon met by those from Philadelphia, for whose accommodation a special car had been allowed. A few carriages had been provided for some of the more aged and frail; but the walking being good, the most of the company started off on foot, forming quite a procession. After passing down the picturesque valley of Chester creek about a mile, we turned to the right, and soon arrived at the old mansion, situated on the south side of a sloping hill. Here preparations had been made for the occasion on the day previous, by erecting a large tent adjoining the west end of the house, and in this a large stove and seats had been placed. Without this convenience, for which we were indebted to Dr. Rowland, of Media, there would have been much less comfort, as the house would not contain one half the assembled guests, although every room was thrown open for their accommodation. In addition to those who came by rail, a great many from the surrounding country soon after arrived in their own conveyances. It was pleasant to witness the many greetings amongst relatives and friends who had not met for years, but were now brought together on this unusual occasion. New acquaintances were also formed, while on the other hand a feeling of sadness could not but steal over the hearts of some, on recalling to mind the near and dear ones who had been removed by death, and whose absence at this time was realized afresh. At half-past 12 o'clock, dinner was announced, which was somewhat on the pic-nic order—many of the company having brought provisions with them. These being arranged on tables in house and tent, by the fair hands of granddaughters and great granddaughters, &c., presented a sight well calculated to make a hungry person feel happy. There were turkeys, chickens, cold tongue and other substantials, as well as a profusion of the more tempting, though less wholesome luxuries. Among the latter must be noticed several large and beautiful cakes, bearing inscriptions, or rather superscriptions, in raised letters on the white frosting; one of which read thus:—"Centennial Birth Day, Thomas Dutton, Feb. 2nd, 1869;" another, "To our Uncle, Feb. 2nd, Age 100." Dinner being disposed of, the descendants and near relatives of Thomas Dutton were collected in front of the dwelling for the purpose of having a photograph taken of the group by Alfred Hemple, an artist from Philadelphia. The roll was called, and the children with their consorts took their places on the porch, while below and in front were stationed in regular order, the grandchildren and great grandchildren. These being arranged, the venerable patriarch was brought out in his large arm chair, and placed in the midst of his children, when in an instant, almost, the scene was photographed. Another picture was taken of the old man alone, after which he was conveyed again to his room, as it was feared that much exposure to the chilly air might prove injurious to him. A third picture was taken of all the friends assembled, but I regret to say the second was accidentally spoiled.

After this a meeting was called in the tent, and on motion Samuel Dutton, the oldest son living, took the chair, and Charles L. Cassin, a grandson, was appointed Secretary. An address was read, referring to the great advances in civilization, science and agriculture, within the century just closed; also some portions of the genealogy of the family. By invitation, Samuel B. Thomas then delivered a short but appropriate extempore address; after which a song composed by a granddaughter for the occasion, was sung and followed by "Auld Lang Syne," when the meeting adjourned. A book had been provided for the purpose, in which those assembled were requested to register their names and residences, and more than two hundred and fifty did so. The total number of Thomas Dutton's descendants, as reported, is 79, of whom 56 are living and 44 were present. Number of descendants by marriage, 24—of whom 17 are living and 12 were present.* Soon after 4 o'clock the company began to disperse to their various homes, and many returned to Rockdale to meet the trains both east and west; those going to Philadelphia having a car for their own use, as in the morning, through the kindness of Edward Hoopes, one of the directors, who is also a nephew of Thomas Dutton.

Thus ended a day long to be remembered by all present, and every one appeared to enjoy the occasion.

* Those of the lineal descendants who were present have been designated by an asterisk (*) on pages 99 and 100. The 12 descendants by marriage were the consorts of Nos. 331, 334, 335, 671, 674, 675, 676, 679, 680, 685, 688, 690.

NOTE B.

THE DUTTONS OF CONNECTICUT.

Some of the Dutton family emigrated to New England more than fifty years prior to the settlement of Pennsylvania, and their descendants are now scattered all over the United States.

Savage, in his "Genealogical Dictionary of New England," states that John Dutton arrived in 1630, but he knew not where he seated himself. Thomas Dutton of Woburn, perhaps a son of John, was born about 1621 and lived for some time at Reading, where, by his wife Susan, it is thought he had but the following probably at Woburn :

ELIZABETH, Jan. 28, 1659.

JOSEPH, Jan. 25, 1661.

SARAH, Mar. 5, 1662.

JAMES, Aug. 22, 1665.

BENJAMIN, Feb. 19, 1669.

He removed to Billerica, and was there in 1675, with his sons Thomas and John. His son Thomas was wounded and had a remarkable escape in 1677, when Capt. Swett and many of his men were killed in the Indian war at the East.

His wife died May 27, 1684, aged 58, and he married 9, Nov. following to Ruth Hooper.

Chester Dutton of Lake Sibley, Kansas, has furnished an extended record of his ancestors and relatives, which is here given in an abridged form :

My family record goes back with certainty only to Thomas Dutton, of Wallingford, Conn., who, in the early part of the 18th century, was living there with three brothers—Samuel, Benjamin and David. These four brothers are understood to have been sons of David Dutton, who, at a still earlier date, was living, together with his brother Jonathan at Barnstable, Mass.; and these again may have been grandsons of Thomas Dutton of Woburn and Billerica.

Samuel Dutton of Wallingford, was born in 1700, and at an early age removed to East Haddam, Ct., where he married Sally Cone, a noted beauty, and from her his numerous descendants very generally inherit black eyes. The late George Dutton of Utica, N. Y., a great grandson of Samuel, devoted considerable attention to the family history, and left a record in manuscript which is still preserved. His son William Henry Dutton is an extensive dealer in pianos in Philadelphia, Pa.

Thomas Dutton of Wallingford removed about the year 1757 to Washington, Ct., and afterwards, in the decline of life, lived ten or twelve years with his son Thomas in Watertown, Ct. At the age of 85 or 86 he visited his younger sons in Vermont, and died there, at Royalton, in 1802, at the advanced age of 93 years. He was distinguished for his religion and personal piety, and of his sons all who lived to manhood were members of, and four of them officers in christian churches. His children were—

Besides his farm he carried on the business of a house joiner, and nearly all the churches and meeting houses standing in that part of the country as late as 1830, were built by him, and nearly all the joiners of middle age or older had learned the trade of him. He was captain of a company of militia in service at the defence of New York in 1776, but the title which he most affected, and by which he was generally known among his neighbors, was that of Deacon Thomas Dutton. He died Jan. 29, 1806.
